

JFK Communications to Provide Comprehensive Strategic Communications Services to Catalent Pharma Solutions

Princeton, NJ, December 3, 2010 – JFK Communications, Inc. announced today that the firm added Catalent Pharma Solutions to its robust client roster. Catalent is a global leader in providing advanced dose form technologies and development, manufacturing and packaging services to life sciences companies. JFK Communications will provide Catalent with public relations support for its global product and service portfolio, including raising awareness of the company's expert team and service offerings.

“Our extensive experience working with leading biotechnology and pharmaceutical companies, not to mention our extensive work with leading outsourced service providers to life sciences companies, makes us an ideal strategic partner for Catalent,” said John F. Kouten, chief executive officer of JFK Communications. “We will work hard to elevate their experts and make their services visible to an even larger global client base.”

JFK's current client roster includes Taiho Pharma USA, Inc., GE Healthcare Medical Diagnostics, TopoTarget and PharmaNet Development Group, as well as multiple patient advocacy groups.
