

Director of Business Development– Social and Public Sectors

As the Director of Business Development, you will support partnership strategy and implementation of GeoPoll’s international development, humanitarian assistance, and government contracting (social and public sectors) growth.

You will be part of a team that is passionately committed to expanding to our base of international development clients such as USAID, DFID, MCC, World Bank, and the United Nations.

In this role you will develop the blueprint to guide GeoPoll’s business development efforts. With the support of your team, you will identify business/sales opportunities and lead partnerships from inception through full execution out of our Washington, DC office. You will expand and cultivate relationships with a wide variety of partners, developing teaming strategies and approaches and negotiating technical roles and budgets. You enjoy working in the fast-paced environment of proposal development ranging from writing concept notes and drafting corporate capabilities statements to developing detailed budgets and cost estimates. Additionally, you excel in a team-oriented environment that includes working on projects in parallel, and a flexibility to work on special projects when needed. You are a self-starter who is excited to work in a start-up environment.

Responsibilities

- Drive business development strategy. You will develop the blueprint to guide GeoPoll’s business development efforts in the social and public sectors. With the assistance of your team, you will track funding opportunities from donors (such as USAID and DFID), government agencies (such as DOD and UK’s FCO), foundations, research institutions, universities and other key actors. You will develop and track the business development goal for this division, including developing financial projections and fulfilling reporting needs.
- Develop and maintain strategic partnerships and sales. You will proactively lead partnership efforts, strategic positioning, and negotiate teaming agreements in order to ensure client retention and client expansion. You will lead direct sales with clients, preparing and successfully closing proposals and pricing agreements.
- Raise awareness about GeoPoll. You will serve as the primary advocate for GeoPoll’s services among international donors, government entities, and implementing partners. You will identify strategic speaking opportunities and represent GeoPoll at international development forums and conferences. Working collaboratively with GeoPoll’s marketing team, you will identify opportunities to strengthen GeoPoll’s brand across written, social media, and in-person collateral.
- Management. You will lead a team of business development managers, providing support and management to ensure their and the team’s overall success.
- Identify and promote alignment across organization. You will work closely with other teams within GeoPoll—including executive, finance, operations, and project management—to promote collaboration in support of social sector’s revenue and long-term growth.
