

Dear Friends of Sundial SOS

As a valued customer of Sundial SOS, we appreciate the trust you put in us to find the right venue for your meetings and events. Recognising the ongoing uncertainty of coronavirus (COVID-19), we wanted to reassure you that we are here to support you with any venue negotiations and we will do our best to guide you through the ever-changing situation.

This is a difficult time for everyone and we will continue to monitor the situation to support our customers in the best possible way.

As always, we are just a phone call away if you would like to discuss any questions or concerns.

Best Wishes
