

Change the way you print for good with Brother Balanced Deployment

Understanding the significant impact of printer placement on cost and productivity is all in a day's work for Brother. Balanced Deployment ensures the right devices are placed within reach of the right people. Here's four reasons why Kiwi businesses choose this unique approach...

Save time, money & improve productivity

In the health industry alone, employees spend a staggering 22.5 hours a year - or three days - collecting printing. Research shows that in certain industries print volumes have increased with many businesses not understanding the true cost outside of the machine itself. Having incorrect devices in the wrong places can be hugely costly to employee productivity and workflows.
