

KeLabs Inc. Forum Code of Conduct

Welcome to the KeLabs Forum! We hope you find this forum educational and entertaining. Use of our forum constitutes acceptance and agreement to our Code of Conduct. Please follow our Code of Conduct to make this forum enjoyable for all users. KeLabs has final approval of all posts, comments, and users. We reserve the right to remove any content or user.

Code of Conduct

To help create a community of users, please engage with other users and administrators. Post comments, leave suggestions, ask questions!

Respect the privacy of yourself and others. Do not post unauthorized information without consent such as name, address, telephone number, and email.

Do not post any personally identifiable patient information.

You are responsible for the content of your posts.

Profanity, vulgar/ offensive language, threats, and other abusive commentary will not be tolerated.

Do not send spam, attach corrupt files, or attempt to undermine the forum's security. This forum is for educational purposes only, and promotional content is considered spam.

Do not post advertisements or solicit donations for fundraisers or giveaways.

Avoid sending large file attachments to other users.

Do not replicate or publish any part of the forum without written consent from KeLabs.

Do not access, or attempt to access, the accounts of other users.

Do not post a message on behalf of a banned user.

Do not harvest email addresses from our forum for any purpose.

Do not disrupt multiple threads in order to get your view out.

You may not register multiple accounts with intent to violate any part of this Code of Conduct.

Do not post content or material in breach of active Non-Disclosure Agreements. We reserve the right to cooperate with the companies in the investigation of any NDA breach.

Breach of Code of Conduct

Our Code of Conduct isn't designed to cover everything. We reserve the right to take any action, including, but not limited to, issuing warnings, removing users, banning user accounts and deleting / editing posts.

Disclaimer

The views, opinions and activities in user-submitted posts are solely those of the author and the information contained therein no way serves as an endorsement or guarantee by KeLabs.