Tim is BBD's Director of Information Technology. He has 20 years of information systems experience, including network administration, systems administration, IT project management, IT governance, policy and procedure development, and IT security.

Tim has extensive experience with Service Organization Control engagements, including examinations of investment company service providers, data centers, financial institutions, and other third-party service organizations.

Tim is a member of the Information Management and Technology Assurance Section of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

Tim is a mentor with ITWorks, a program for young people who are interested in careers in technology but who lack the resources to acquire the skills necessary.

Tim attended Millersville University.

"BBD's commitment to giving back is what stands out to me as making our firm unique. We don't have a day of service, we devote an entire week to the community. It's in our culture here; people from all departments and at all levels participate in our service opportunities."
