Financing the Great Commission

The Economic Realities of Finishing the Task

Session Goals

- Celebrate what God is doing in our generation
- Explore the current state of mission finance
- Review the existing North American model for missions and outreach

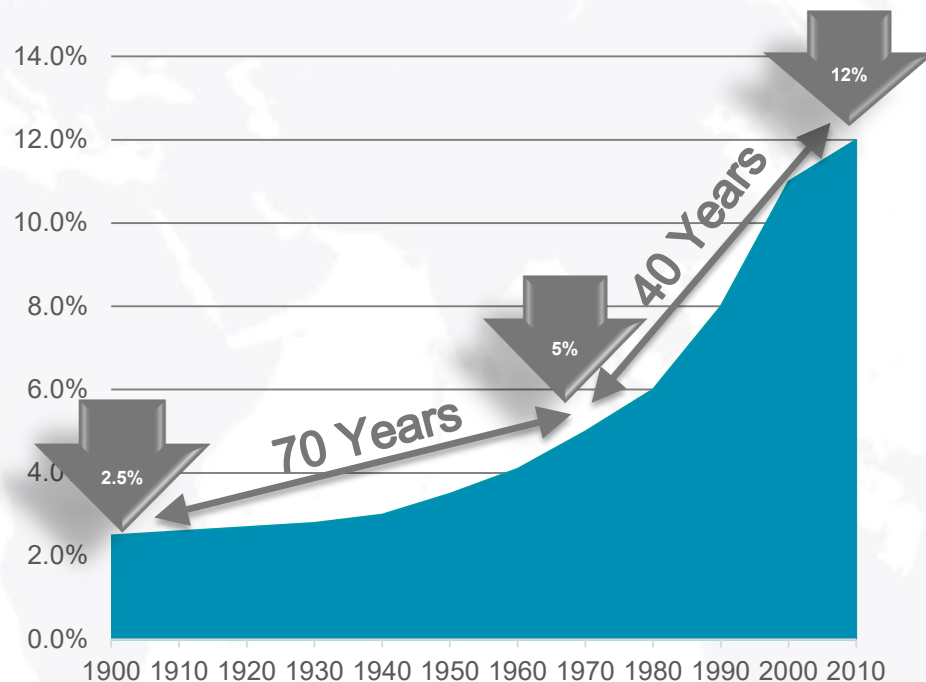

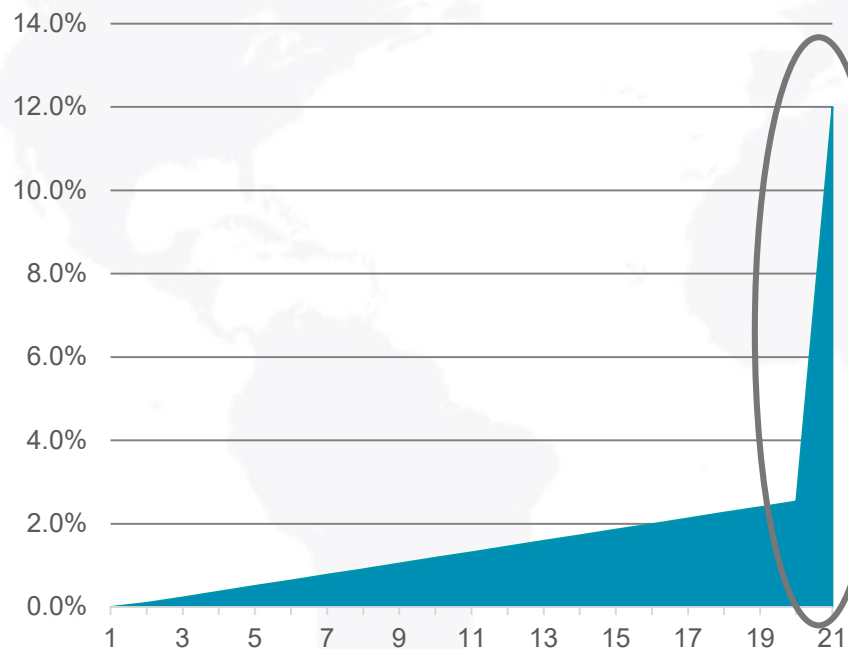

“Most people live their lives within an era of history.
A select few live during a turning point in history.
We are among this select few.”

- Dr. Thom Wolf

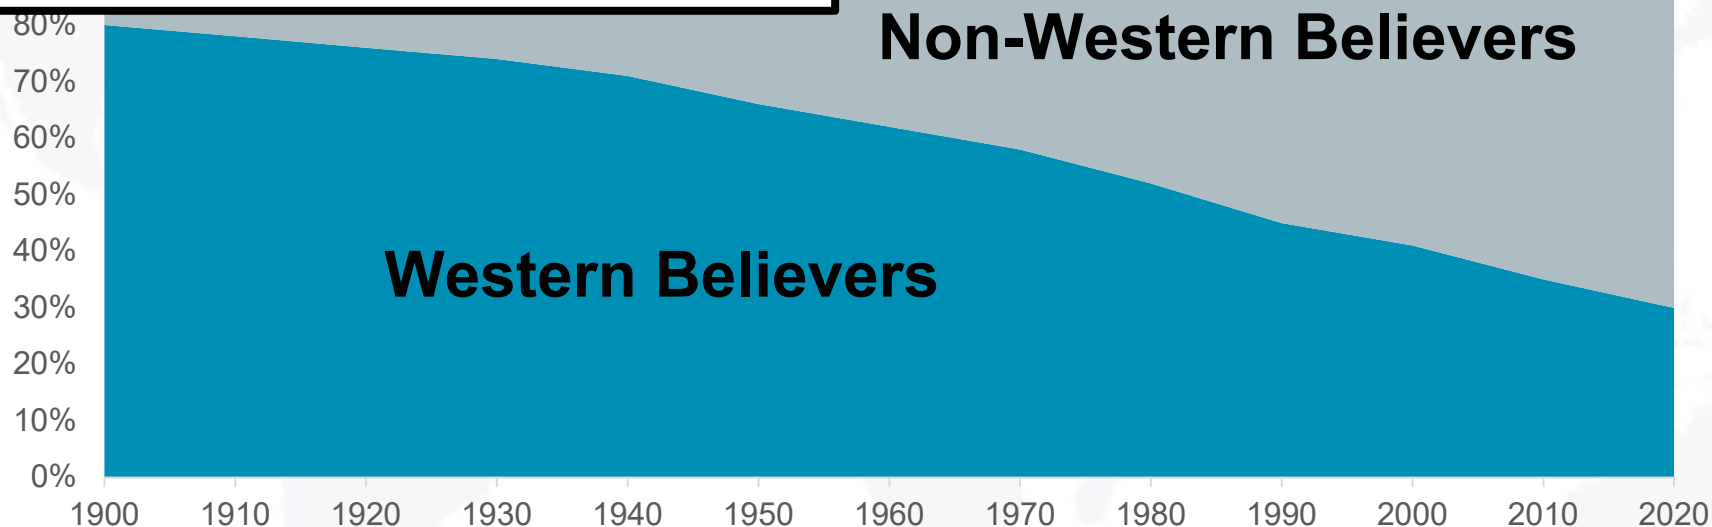

Dr. Wolf is the President and Professor of Global Studies at the University Institute, New Delhi, India and an Adjunct Professor of Global Leadership at Andrews University, Berrien Springs, Michigan.

About e3 Partners

e3 Partners exists to make the local church accessible to every person, everywhere. Through relationships with indigenous leaders, we plant churches locally and globally using a variety of methods including training, short-term trips, long-term missionaries, local evangelism, media and more. So, whatever gifts and resources God has blessed you with, let's work together to expand the Kingdom across the whole earth!

"The earth will be covered with the knowledge of the glory of God as the waters cover the sea." — Habakkuk 2:14
