NAVIX Business Owner Legacy Checklist

For most business owners and leaders, exiting successfully includes achieving a business legacy. Legacy is defined as in what condition and to whom you leave your company. Listed below are elements owners and leaders commonly include when considering their business legacy. Review the list, identify those which are important to you, and assess if that element has been addressed to your satisfaction.

		IMPORTANT	YES CLOSE FAR UNSURE
1.	I have little concern about the business's viability going forward.
2.	I believe employees have been (will be) treated fairly and respectfully throughout my exit process.
3.	I believe employees are (will be) positioned for success going forward.
4.	I have made arrangements to adequately thank and reward my top employees.
5.	I believe our customers and other important external relationships will be well served after my exit.
6.	The business is (will be) in good hands.
7.	I believe the business's new leaders/owners will foster a positive culture after my exit.
8.	Our values have been (will be) upheld throughout my exit process.
9.	I believe the business's positive reputation in our industry will continue after my exit.
10.	I believe the business's positive contributions to the community will continue after my exit.
11.	I have few concerns about letting go of control of the business at the time of my exit.
12.	I feel like I am going out at or near the top.
13.	I am leaving the business with few to no serious regrets.
14.	The business does not feel like an "unfinished painting" that I am leaving before I should.
ĺ	Areas that are Important to you, and that you evaluated as either "Far" or "Unsure," could undermine or block your successful exit. Whether your desired exit is around the corner, or years from now, proper planning begins now in order to one day exit happily.
