

SECURITY SOLUTIONS

From the Mainframe to the Endpoint

Delivering security solutions that meet business objectives... and keep you safe

Status quo is not an option in today's competitive economic climate. Organizations need solutions that help them exceed expectations at the right price. In an economic downturn, it is more important than ever to leverage information technology to deliver business solutions that help your business stay competitive. Maintaining and enhancing legacy applications and infrastructure while taking advantage of new technology and systems becomes a very challenging task. Adding on pressures from audits, data protection, providing access to the right data at the right time, and disaster recovery creates a tenuous situation that needs constant balancing and rightsizing.

DG Technology Consulting was founded with a vision to provide a unique service to our clients. The world of technology changes constantly and our clients are looking for companies and individuals to help them navigate the waters. From security attacks, migration efforts to reduce costs and social networking to budget cuts, risk and compliance questions and audits, DG Technology is the one constant our clients can rely on. Managing to the strategic objectives of the business is an ongoing effort that requires transparency and constant communication.
