

TRANSFORMATION WEEKLY - April 11

This Week's Digital Transformation News

Every week we curate the most valuable transformation, compliance and operational excellence insights from our network of contributors and deliver them directly to you.

This week guest blogger Bernd Ruffing, Management Consultant and Process Painter, explains what change projects and navigation devices have in common.

And much more. Enjoy!

Effective Business Continuity & Resiliency

We've been busy over here at iGrafx – even more so than usual as companies around the world wrestle with the fear, uncertainty and doubt surrounding COVID-19. It is definitely the case that when you encounter the very real threat of production delays, supply chain failures, workforce realignment, missed revenue projections and overall mass business disruption, that people start thinking deeply about core business processes. Read on to learn more.

Predict the Unpredicted

What you'll read below is some real-world feedback from enterprises on their level of Business Resilience and what they are doing to address the COVID-19 pandemic. See how organizations are progressing.

What's New in Transformation This Week

- COVID-19 and Operational Resilience
- Digital Transformation Isn't A Project, It's A Way Of Operating
- Digital Transformation For Good Shines As We Fight COVID-19

Webinar: Effective Business Continuity & Resiliency

REGISTER NOW >

iGrafx 7585 SW Mohawk St. Tualatin OR 97062

You received this email because you are subscribed to Marketing Information from iGrafx .

Update your email preferences to choose the types of emails you receive.

Unsubscribe from all future emails