Manage Contracts for Value

Overview

For most companies, creating a contract may be the end of sourcing process. But, in fact, it should be the start of ensuring that the value negotiated in contracts is realized. Sievo's Contract Management solution is designed to help organizations manage contracts for value. Easy upload of contracts ensures that these documents are captured in the system. More than just a repository, combining the contract data with spend information provides automated contract coverage and compliance reporting.

Sievo Approach: Manage Contracts for Value

Spend + contract data = Automated compliance reporting

sievo.com

Objective

To provide easy access to all contract information for global, regional and local procurement and other stakeholders; and to combine this information with spend data for automated contract coverage and compliance reporting.

Challenges

- ✓ Contracts are stored only as pdfs and in paper formats – capture to system too cumbersome
- ✓ Contracts are not managed for value after signature
- ✓ Limited insight into contract portfolio

"Without Sievo Contract Management and the visibility to spending our money, we would not be able to grow to the length of procurement and supply chain that we've gone through so far. It's a firm supporter of continuous development within ISS, in sourcing and supply chain in particular."
