SCHOOL SEARCH SERVICE International and Local

KNOWLEDGEABLE & ACCURATE INFORMATION | SCHOOL APPOINTMENTS APPLICATION PROCEDURES | LOCAL EXPERTISE

We understand that selecting a school is a big decision. It requires a lot of research and important considerations. Expatriates need to decide if they want the diversity of an international school or to immerse their children in the culture of a local school.

There are several questions that parents should ask when considering schools, such as:

- Is the faculty accustomed to working with children from various countries?
- What is the curriculum and how does it compare to your home country's education system?
- Is there a waiting list, and what are the steps to apply?

We help parents make this decision confidently with the NIM.MERSION School Search Service.

Knowledgeable and Accurate Information:

NIM.MERSION has a long history of helping expatriates select a school for their children. We truly know the International schools and can offer insight behind the website and glossy brochures. We can help provide a better picture of the schools, and the overall philosophy.

School Visit Appointments:

An important step is to visit schools personally in advance to gain a personal understanding of their attitudes, philosophies and faculty. NIM.MERSION will book appointments with the international schools that parents would like to visit.

Application Procedure:

There are different processes for applying to international and local schools. NIM.MERSION will help facilitate applications to international schools and will guide parents through the application process of local schools.

Local Expertise:

We provide parents valuable local insight into our local schools. Based on the needs of the family, NIM.MERSION will present local school options including availability, educational focus, and suitability.
