Our Mantra

Outside of our hometown, I often hear the question, “Why would I choose Lacy Construction Company from Grand Island, when there are so many other general contractors here?”

Our Vast Experience

Because we likely have built a project similar to yours, we’re often able to make recommendations within your budget that will enhance your enjoyment of the finished building (see sidebar).

Specialized Knowledge

Energy efficiency and sustainable, environmentally-friendly construction are client priorities, but it takes a contractor who really understands that the building is an interdependent system to create structures that work. For example, the heating and cooling system has to be designed and sized properly to operate with a super-insulated structure. Similarly, lighting, indoor air quality and acoustical solutions must be optimized for high-performance buildings.

Our Team

We have been in business for 68 years, and we'll be here for you! Mel Griess, Steve Grubbs and I each have more than 30 years with the company. Other veteran members of our core team include Martin Evans (25 years), Tim Jensen (18 years), Chris Wissing (16 years) and Lori Bendixen (10 years). We may not have experienced everything, but we have seen a lot, and we put that knowledge to work for you.

In the first quarter of 2014, our management team had already completed more than 50 hours of continuing industry education. Members of our staff are also involved with three construction organizations to better the industry, serve on the boards of charitable organizations and coach/volunteer with youth athletic programs.

Your Experience

We put our customers first! We get to know you and your vision for your building project. We look at building and construction from all stakeholders' perspectives—including owners, staff and customers—in order to deliver the best value. Clear, consistent communication throughout the entire process eliminates ambiguity. We take great pride in the numerous referrals we've received from clients who were more than satisfied.

Other construction companies may also tout past projects and key staff, yet none can match our passion for building. We love working with you to solve your building problems and create environments people can appreciate. From our founding member, Paul Abrahamson, to myself, Lacy Construction insists on buildings done right, with no compromises.
