

briteskies

Are you self-motivated, dedicated, and interested in learning more about the eCommerce field? Do you want to learn in a welcoming, team-based environment? Then we're looking for someone like you to intern with us! If you enjoy problem solving, learning new techniques and applications, and have strong communication skills, then you'll complement our culture of dedication and vitality.

The Details

- 12 week internship with opportunity to extend or turn into full-time employment
- Flexible schedule (12-15 hours a week)
- Attractive hourly wage
- Dedicated mentor
- End of internship evaluation

We are looking for interns in the following roles:

JAVA Developer

PHP Developer

Business Analyst

Marketing Specialist

Our Core Values

Customer Compassion: We empathize with our customers to deliver the best solution.

All in Brteskes: There's no "I" in our team!

Good Vibes Only: A fun and genuine personality is a must.

_____ Expertise: Creative, functional, technical, and everything in between.

Endless Curiosity: We're always eager to learn something new.

Get Sh!t Done: We're all about meeting commitments, exceeding expectations, and moving forward.

Briteskies was a lot closer and more personal than I was expecting. It was more than just a place to clock in and grind away at mundane tasks; it was a place to come together and accomplish goals together as a cohesive team.

Adam Boe, Magento Team Intern

This internship has helped me develop into a well-rounded and balanced person. I gained work-related knowledge, people skills, life skills, and confidence in my ability to successfully tackle future internships and jobs.

Lindsey Mink, Marketing Intern

The internship here was more fun than I expected, more work than I expected, and I enjoyed it more than I expected. In fact, I enjoyed it so much that I stayed on as a full-time employee.

Matt Trimmer, Business Analyst Intern

During my time at Briteskies I did a wide variety of tasks ranging from setting up a development site for the Briteskies website, to setting up servers and backup servers, to sitting in on a lot of meetings, all of which helped me to broaden my skillset.

Jack Rhine, IT Intern

This internship has provided me with content marketing experience, analytics training, a brief background on Magento and JD Edwards, detailed training in HubSpot, and the chance to use what I have learned in school in a real-world setting.

Colleen Kowalski, Marketing Intern

The technical experience I have received for the last three months has been great; extremely challenging, but great. The internship experience here at Briteskies is very hands on. You won't be making copies of papers and fetching coffee. My favorite part of this process is that you don't feel like an intern, you feel like part of the family here.

Greg Crane, Magento Team Intern

I had the privilege of working on the inbound marketing campaign, writing articles, and many other marketing tasks. Aware of my schoolwork load as an M.B.A. student, the team was incredibly supportive and accommodating to other commitments while still providing me with plenty of opportunities to learn and grow.

Kara Oldford, Marketing Intern

My favorite part of the Briteskies experience is the idea that the company is a family, one team working towards a common goal. Everyone in the office plays off each other's diverse personalities to create a unique and productive chemistry.

Jake LaFleur, Business Analyst Intern

To learn about open internship positions and hear more from past interns, visit www.briteskies.com/internship-program.