Corridor Company's CTO, Aaron Cutlip, Featured Speaker at SharePoint Saturday NYC on July 30, 2016

SharePoint administrators, end users, architects, developers and other professionals working with Microsoft SharePoint Technologies will meet for the 8th SPS Event in New York City.

Wakefield, Mass. (PRWEB) July 26, 2016

Corridor Company, Inc., the leading provider of contract lifecycle management software powered by the SharePoint and Office 365 platforms, is pleased to announce that its Chief Technology Officer, Aaron Cutlip, will speak at SharePoint Saturday New York City held at the new Microsoft office in Times Square on Saturday, July 30, 2016. His presentation, "Workflow & Flow, Compare and Contrast" will take place from 4:15 to 5:30 pm EDT.

In his presentation, Cutlip will examine SharePoint Designer workflows and their continued growth in the marketplace, including the rise of Microsoft Flow, a task platform that creates automated workflows between popular applications and services to provide notifications, synchronized files, data collection, and more. Cutlip will focus on common real work scenarios designed to showcase the strengths and weaknesses of each workflow, as well as advanced integration touchpoints within designer workflows.

SharePoint is Microsoft's fastest growing product and the platform upon which Corridor has built its Contract Lifecycle Management Business Application, CM[.app]™. With advanced functionality for extensive metadata support, rich version control, enterprise scalability, support for over 50 different languages, extensive native security, industrial strength data structures, powerful search capabilities and a diverse range of integration options, it provides Corridor with an unparalleled development platform for its contract lifecycle management application.

SharePoint Saturday, a one day conference held in different cities around the world, focuses on the latest news, issues and trends in Microsoft SharePoint, Office 365 and other associated technologies. SharePoint Saturday New York is one of the largest SharePoint Saturdays nationally and is the largest on the East Coast, with 55 unique sessions held throughout the day. SharePoint Saturday is an educational and informative all day conference featuring high level sessions led by industry leading experts. "SharePoint Saturday is a fantastic training tool for leading SharePoint professionals from across the world to discuss the latest industry trends and issues pertaining to SharePoint," says Cutlip. "As the global leader of contract management software powered by the SharePoint platform, we are committed to not only continuously educating ourselves about SharePoint's vast functionality, but also giving back to the community."
