

AccuQuilt Announces New GO! Quilt™ Web App to Help Quilters Explore Their Creativity

AccuQuilt's GO! Quilt allows quilters to browse, create and personalize unique quilting projects.

(OMAHA, NE) November 15, 2018—AccuQuilt, a U.S. based company that specializes in manufacturing premiere fabric cutting machines, is excited to announce the release of its FREE GO! Quilt web app. With more than 70 patterns to choose from (and more being added regularly), this new platform makes it easy to create a custom project.

“GO! Quilt is a new way for quilters to create one-of-a-kind projects and find new dies,” said director of marketing, Dawn Drazdys. “We hope quilters will use this tool to locate patterns and experiment with different colors and fabrics.”

The types of projects included in GO! Quilt are quilts, wall hangings, table runners, pillows and more. Besides project type, users can filter in their search for a project by parameters such as skill level, construction technique and AccuQuilt cutter owned.

Once users select a project, they can customize their blocks with 190 different color choices offered within the application. They can personalize projects further by uploading their own fabric samples, which are embedded into the platform swatch library upon upload.

A real-time view of changes allows users to see the final version of the project before they save it to their GO! Quilt account. If they're ready to get started after completing their project, users can generate custom cutting and sewing instructions on demand. Along with instructions, the platform recommends GO! dies based on their chosen pattern and the dies they currently own.
