

Dear Scott,

I am happy to endorse the AFleet. It's the best training I've come across in my 30 years of trucking safety. We have been using the product at Gateway Distribution since March of 2014 and have no plans of stopping. A key component of our four day on-site orientation process is spending six to eight hours completing the 16 self-directed video modules. I recap each module with the driver to reinforce the key learning points. This has proven to be an effective module to set the tone for our safety expectations at Gateway Distribution.

The interactive nature of the videos keeps the driver engaged in the content. I really like the diversity of the five presenters because there is someone for everyone to relate to. Sometimes it's corny but it always engaging. There is a lot of information that needs to be digested in a short period of time so the comedic spin lightens up the drivers – they are more open to engaging with the courses and retaining the information. The modern approach was desperately needed in an industry full of dated content. The AFleet takes concepts such as Federal Regulations and makes it interesting! Most of my new hires tell me this is the best training program that they have been through!

Please send anyone who is considering using this product my way and I'll be happy to answer any questions they may have. I sincerely believe the AFleet will make the roads safer.

All the best,

Willy Jennings, CDS, CSHM
