Engaging, Innovative Educational Opportunities Headline the 2019 LIGHTFAIR® International Conference

ATLANTA, May 2, 2019 — The latest in education and innovation showcasing the future of light, technology, design and connectivity shines in a convergence of thought leadership at the celebrated LIGHTFAIR® International Conference set for May 19-23, 2019 at the Philadelphia Convention Center. The Pre-Conference LIGHTFAIR Institute® is May 19-20 and the Trade Show & Conference are May 21-23.

The five-day Conference program will feature 75 courses with 140 speakers presenting a leading-edge custom curriculum developed by lighting, technology and design experts serving on the select LFI Conference Advisory Committee. The LFI Conference engages practitioners across the lighting, design and technology spectrum with relevant topics, accomplished speakers and industry intelligence as an integral component of the world’s largest annual architectural and commercial lighting trade show.

With Conference registrations growing steadily in the run-up to opening day, the most popular choices in Conference programming include a broad array of courses ranging from Evolving Opportunities in Utility Rebate Programs and Winning the VE Game: How to Navigate the Strong Currents of Value Engineering to The Poetics of Darkness and Lighting Design with Electrical in Mind. The 36th Annual IALD International Lighting Design Awards and a tour of the LFI Innovation
