

SPOUSE/PARTNER CAREER TRANSITION PROGRAM

Making Sure the Move Works for Each Person and Each Couple

Among the top reasons for failed relocations is the spouse/partner's inability to find employment in the new location.

CMP's Spouse/Partner Career Transition Program is designed to support the unique needs of the spouse/partner who needs to get connected and continue their career in a new city. This program is uniquely tailored to help each significant other save time, minimize stress, and optimize career and employment opportunities. Each program participant receives a personal career transition coach, and access to the resources and research of OI Solutions - CMP's robust portal.

CAREER TRANSITION COACH

Our one-on-one career coaches will work directly with the partner/spouse to support every aspect of the career transition and job search. Often this support begins before the move to allay candidate concerns and build a level of excitement around the opportunities in the new market. Career Coaches help her/him develop an individual career plan, prepare for interviews, network within the community, practice negotiation strategies, and discover alternative career options. The coach acts as the experienced guide in the career transition process.

OI SOLUTIONS

Program participants also gain 24/7 access to OI Solutions – an interactive and personalized website that provides the resources necessary to develop and optimize each person's job search. OI Solutions resources include access to:

- ◆ Powerful research tools, including LexisNexis database of companies.
