

Looking for some information to address common concerns? Here are some of our most popular and useful blog posts that answer frequent questions.

Infant and child identity theft

Infants at Risk of Identity Theft: Protect Your Family's Privacy

Because of their clean credit histories and length of time before fraud will likely be noticed, infants are prime targets. Here are tips to protect your baby's identity.

How to Protect Your Child's Identity

The rate of child identity theft is about 50 times higher than adult identity theft, and that means taking precautions to keep them safe. Here's how to do that.

Tax season

File Your Taxes Early to Protect Your Identity and Refund From Thieves

After record breaches in 2017, more Americans find their Tax ID numbers exposed, which puts them at risk of tax fraud. Here are ways you can thwart fraud and make sure your refund goes to you.

Summer vacation and travel

As Family Vacations Begin, Identity Thieves Are on the Prowl

Keep your assets safe while you're enjoying some time away. These tips will keep you safe before and during your trip.

Holiday shopping

6 Tips for Protecting Your Security, Identity, and Privacy on Cyber Monday

The opportunity for great web deals means the opportunity for thieves to steal your information. Get the goods without compromising yourself.

Protect Your Identity and Privacy From Thieves This Holiday Season

Traveling, shopping, and more shopping. The holidays put you and your financial information at even more peril. Check out our tips on how to keep your identity safe through the most wonderful time of the year.