

Ai-Media wins captioning contract for BBC Worldwide ANZ

3 August 2016

Ai-Media has been selected to provide broadcast captioning for BBC Worldwide Australia & New Zealand (ANZ) for a further three years. In the deal, they will continue to supply captioning for BBC First, UKTV, BBC Knowledge and CBeebies on broadcast platforms across both territories.

Ai-Media CEO, Tony Abrahams, said: “We’re proud to support BBC Worldwide ANZ by delivering the captioning for their great British content. Whatever the platform, Ai-Media ensures the best possible viewing experience for captioning users.”

Fiona Lang, COO for BBC Worldwide ANZ, said: “Captioning is a vital service for many of our viewers and we are delighted to extend our partnership with Ai-Media, who will deliver the highest quality captioning across a range of programming on our channels.”

About Ai-Media:

Ai-Media is an Australian-owned for profit social business with offices in the UK and US, that provides high quality speech-to-text solutions for broadcast, government and education clients. The company’s Ai-Live internet captioning service was supported by the Australian Government. Using a microphone on the original speaker, the spoken words are sent live to a trained stenocaptioner or “re-speaker”, who uses software that converts speech into text that is sent back over the internet to screens read by the client.
