PRESBYTERIAN
SENIOR LIVING

A publication of Presbyterian Senior Living

Recognition

In this issue of Caring and Sharing you will see that Presbyterian Senior Living (PSL) has received recognition from LeadingAge PA in three distinct areas – Innovation, at Presbyterian Apartments in Harrisburg; Volunteer of the Year for Jean Pletcher at Quincy Village; and the LeadingAge PA Lifetime Achievement award presented to PSL Chief Operating Officer, Jim Bernardo. LeadingAge PA is the state association of more than 300 not-for-profit providers of senior services. We are understandably proud of these achievements and the commitment to excellence that has made this possible.

But as wonderful as these accolades are, the real measure of success is found in the work that occurs every day by the nearly 3,000 staff members and hundreds of volunteers who create an atmosphere of compassion and kindness that has been the hallmark of Presbyterian Senior Living for more than 85 years. They are joined by the thousands of individuals who have chosen to spend their retirement years in a PLS location, forming a warm and caring community in which to live and work.

In a world full of negativity and criticism, it is good to focus on something positive. After nearly 2,000 years, the words of the Apostle Paul still apply today. “Finally brothers, whatever is true, whatever is honorable, whatever is just, whatever is pure, whatever is lovely, whatever is commendable, if there is any excellence, if there is anything worthy of praise, think about these things.” The following pages contain examples of what is commendable, excellent and worthy of praise.

In this issue of Caring and Sharing, we lift up those in the PSL family whose efforts make a difference in the lives of vulnerable seniors. Your work is praiseworthy indeed.

It's that time of year again – school supplies are on sale!!! The beginning of a new school year was always (and in some respects, still is) my favorite time of year. A new school year always marked the beginning of new experiences, new knowledge, new skills and (sometimes) new friends. The best part – new school supplies!!!

My favorite – a new box of CRAYONS! I still get excited about all the possibilities contained in a new box of crayons. Just think...tools to color a map or create a new landscape (my favorite was always a mountain scene with a stream), ways to make a bright flower garden, or a means to create a space world or zoo. Sometimes, if I was particularly creative (or was assigned the project by a teacher), I would write and illustrate a story or poem. There is nothing like a new box of crayons – especially the BIG box with the built in sharpener!

Robert Fulghum has written, “We could learn a lot from crayons; some are sharp, some are pretty, some are dull, while others bright, some have weird names, but they all have learned to live together in the same box.”

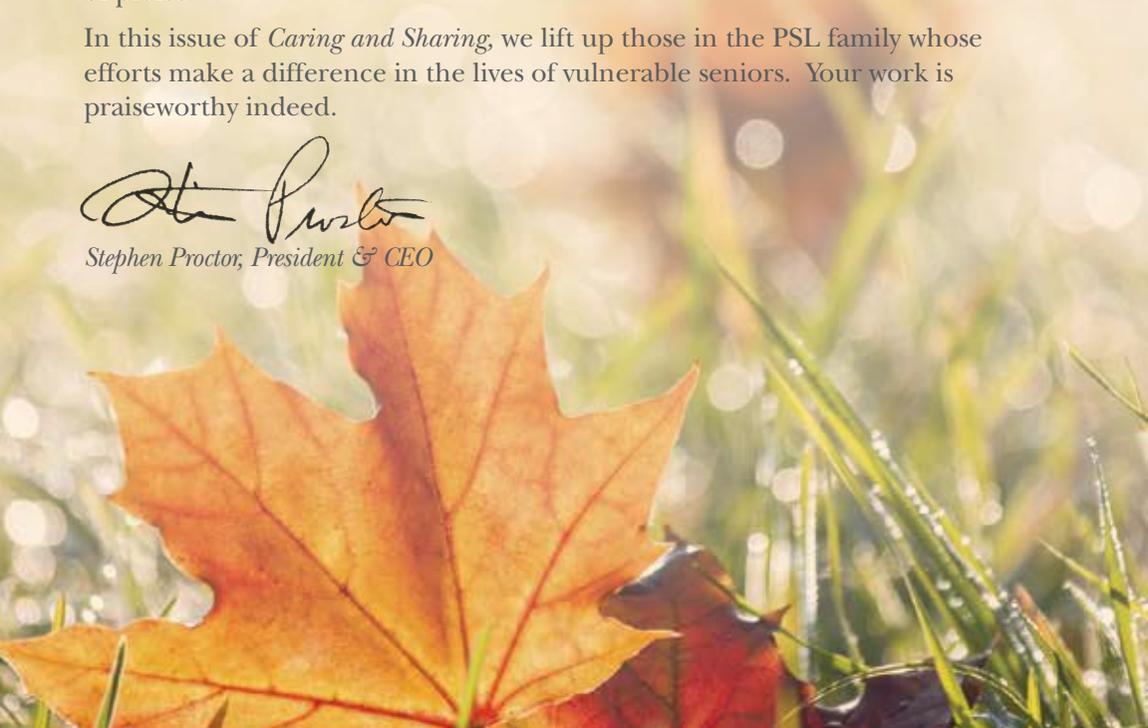

Perhaps my love of a new box of crayons still inspires me as I meet people and think about all the blessings of this world. “O Lord, our Lord, your greatness is seen in all the world!” (Psalm 8:9) God's guidance and work is all around us and in us – if we will only see the possibilities.

As we greet each new day, as we pray for our families and our world, let us remember that God colors our lives with His promises. Remember them. Claim them. Share them.

“Your attitude is like a box of crayons that color your world. Constantly color your picture gray, and your picture will always be bleak. Try adding some bright colors to the picture by including humor and your picture begins to lighten up.” (Allen Klein).

Color your world with God's peace, love and joy!

The Memorial Garden at Glen Meadows

Ralph Quinn decided over 60 years ago that he would pursue a career in the landscape nursery business. He spent his summers at his Grandparents' farm in Pennsylvania where he watched as 10 acres of the farm were professionally landscaped. "I looked at it and I said,

"Wow, farming without the animals,"

Quinn said. He knew immediately that's what he wanted to do. Ralph went on to study horticulture at the University of Maryland; opened his landscape and nursery business in Kingsville, MD in 1977 and proceeded to transform many properties located in central Maryland.

He and his wife Margaret moved to Glen Meadows in 2012 and have been actively volunteering in many capacities ever since. Ralph sings in the chorus and Margaret is the Chair of the Welcoming Committee. Ralph also volunteers with the Glen Meadows Recycling Committee, Garden and Grounds Committee and works in the vegetable garden located on the campus between the barn and the pond.

Within months of moving in to Glen Meadows, Ralph approached the leadership team and Mission Support about planting a "Memorial Garden."

The small garden located across from the entrance to the Manor House would honor the memory of those residents who have passed on. Permission was granted and donations for the initial installation of the garden were obtained from Glen Meadows residents, staff and friends. A plaque to recognize the generosity of our donors is displayed in the Manor House lobby area. Ralph is constantly looking to improve the garden by planting bulbs or annuals so donations will always remain welcome!

Presbyterian Senior Living Partners with Milagro House

Presbyterian Senior Living (PSL) is pleased to partner with Milagro House of Lancaster and the Lancaster County Council of Churches to provide used vehicles to selected program participants. In the past, PSL residents or their family members have offered to donate vehicles for use at our communities. On occasion, we have gratefully accepted some of these generous offers; but depending on the PSL community and its needs, it hasn't always been appropriate for the campus to put them to use. Now, through this new partnership, the vehicle can be donated through PSL to benefit the Milagro House participants.

The Lancaster County Council of Churches will receive the cars, handle the paperwork and then make them available to the appropriate Milagro House program participants. This groundbreaking program, called Wheels to Work, transforms lives by providing reliable, used cars to pre-qualified, low-wage families while providing the maximum tax deductions to the car donors. Since the program's inception three years ago, the Council has sold over 70 cars to those in need.

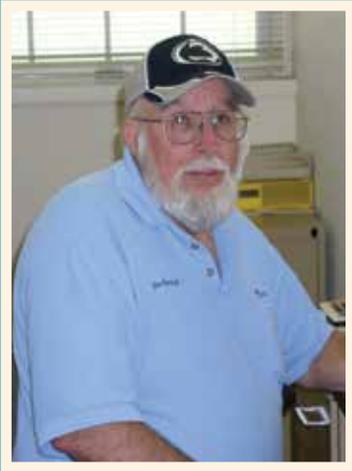

The mission of Milagro House is committed to providing education, housing and counseling for women and their children experiencing homelessness. Women come to Milagro House for many reasons. Some are recovering from addiction, some are suffering with mental illness, and most of them have been abused. Some suffer with low self-esteem, insufficient education, inadequate parenting skills or poor self-discipline. All of them are mothers and all of them are homeless.

The program, started in 1998, offers women and their children the support they need to achieve success. In addition to housing, the primary focus is education – this is what makes their program unique. Milagro House is a program that makes a difference in our community as well as in the lives of the women and children.

If you are interested in learning more about donating a vehicle, please contact Laurel Shaffer, Vice President of Mission Support, at 717-502-8871, lshaffer@presbyterianseniorliving.org, or one of the Area Directors of Mission Support.

John R. Bumbaugh

John R. Bumbaugh has served Quincy Village for 50 years; he began his work on May 4, 1964 as a laborer. John has quietly and diligently served the community, the residents and his co-workers with his steadfast work ethic of care and service.

John's supervisors have described him as dependable, accurate and valuable. In a statement from John's 1978 annual performance review, John himself stated, "There is no part of my job that I dislike." John's demeanor has always been reserved, polite and gracious. His 50 years of employment records with Quincy Village notes continued service, the ability to adapt to change including "the new" technology of a computer system in 1989. John's work has been thorough and consistent, which led to a number of additional duties over the years, one of those duties included supervising the water treatment and sewage systems for the Quincy community. John accepted all assignments and opportunities to learn new things with a positive outlook. Many supervisors noted that John never complained and eagerly accepted new assignments.

John's current supervisor stated "John has completed 50 years of service and has made a great contribution to the Maintenance Department as well as Quincy as a whole." Quincy Village has been honored to have the service and dedication of this remarkable, humble man for 50 years. Quincy's gratitude to John is unmeasurable. To this very day, John continues to serve with unwavering dedication.

Nature Nourishes the Spirit at Green Ridge Village

Dan and Carol Cash's love of nature, hiking, and birding attracted them to Green Ridge Village's 350-acre campus 12 years before they actually made their move.

The earliest trails were cleared and established by J. Franklin Reed, one of Green Ridge Village's earliest residents, who at the age of 103 still resides with his wife Dorothy in their independent living cottage.

In 2010, shortly after settling into their cottage at Green Ridge, Dan and Carol met with Mission Support to discuss making a gift designated to the development and extension of paved and unpaved walking trails that meander throughout the campus. The result of these conversations led to the establishment of an endowment fund to provide funding for trail improvement and maintenance for the enjoyment of staff, residents and visitors in perpetuity.

One vision of the Cash's was to add benches to the trails to create a comfortable spot to stop, rest and take in the breathtaking beauty of the community. Working with the grounds staff, they located a company that makes environmentally-friendly benches. These sturdy benches have proven to withstand the elements throughout the seasons. An added bonus is that they can be engraved with a message. This has inspired donors to purchase benches for the trail to be engraved with inspirational messages or to honor a loved one. Twelve benches have been added across the campus since 2011. Each bench also represents a cash donation to grow the endowment fund.

To date, the principal of the fund has doubled in size thanks to support from residents, families, employees and other donors.

The trails also have been enhanced through the talents of the woodworkers who constructed bluebird houses made from donated wood. Income from the fund was recently used to purchase a post-hole driver to make it easier to install the birdhouse posts. Volunteer residents monitor the bluebird activity and population growth in over 50 houses across the campus.

According to Dan and Carol, Green Ridge Village provides residents with many opportunities to enjoy the outdoors and the special gifts of nature in every season.

"The walking trail system is unique to Green Ridge Village, and is recognized as one of the many benefits of living here.

Presbyterian Senior Living Employees and Volunteers Receive Awards for Distinguished Service

Presbyterian Senior Living (PSL) is proud to share the good news that awards for distinguished service were presented to three of our staff, volunteers and special initiatives. The LeadingAge PA Distinguished Service Awards were created to honor those special individual and group efforts that exceed the already high standard of commitment and service that is common among LeadingAge PA members.

As an organization, LeadingAge PA represents the interests of not-for-profit providers of services, housing and health care for the elderly. This association works with members as advocates at the state and local level, which gives LeadingAge PA members increased influence and impact on Pennsylvania's legislative process.

Jim Bernardo, PSL Senior Vice President & Chief Operating Officer – Paul P. Haas Lifetime Achievement Award
Jim has consistently displayed his commitment to the field of aging services as a compassionate professional, mentor, and leader who strives to enrich the lives of those he touches. From his journey as a student pursuing a social work degree in the 1970s to his present day position, he has been at the forefront of innovation and design, quality improvement and advocacy on senior-related issues. Over time, he has shared his expertise at both state and federal levels through his service as chair, board member, delegate and lead on key LeadingAge PA and LeadingAge committees and task forces, as well as engaging in mentoring programs to cultivate future aging services leaders. Congratulations to Jim for receiving this award to recognize his service, passion and leadership in the field.

Presbyterian Apartments, Care Navigation Program – Innovation of the Year

The health care system can be intimidating for anyone to navigate, especially senior citizens with limited income, access to transportation and chronic health issues. For the residents of Presbyterian Apartments in Harrisburg, these factors caused frequent emergency room visits and hospital admissions. To address this issue, PSL and PinnacleHealth embarked on a program for more expansive care to help residents better manage their health, improve quality of life, and make better use of health system resources. In July 2012, the Care Navigation Program was launched with an on-site clinic where one day each week a medical team, paid for by PinnacleHealth, met with residents to answer questions; conduct physicals; provide guidance on social service issues; address medication needs and coordinate patients with primary care physicians where needed. Within six months of initiating the program, emergency room visits dropped by 20% and hospital visits by 49%. In addition, after one year, emergency room visits dropped by 49% and hospital admissions dropped by 70%. For their collaborative efforts and fresh approach in maximizing resources to meet the needs of residents, the Care Navigation Program at Presbyterian Apartments was chosen to receive this award for innovative excellence.

Jean Pletcher, Independent Living Resident at Quincy Village – Volunteer of the Year – Individual

Jean Pletcher's quiet dedication and love for her fellow residents at Quincy Village is obvious in all that she does. During the last 20 years, she has volunteered over 9,000 hours of service. Just a few examples of her volunteerism include assisting with voter registration, organizing and participating in special groups, managing the book mobile, and transporting residents to and from activities. In addition to volunteering her time at Quincy's health center and with personal care residents, she spends one-on-one time with those unable or unwilling to participate in group activities. Of special note, she's been known to open her home to her neighbors during the holidays to ensure no one is left alone. For these reasons and many more, we are proud to say that Jean Pletcher, LeadingAge PA's Volunteer of the Year, lives and volunteers at Quincy Village!

Westminster Village Dover Awards the Florence Nightingale Scholarship to Three Deserving Employees

Westminster Village in Dover, DE, (WVD) recently awarded employees with scholarships from the Florence Nightingale Scholarship fund, which was established in 2002 by Dr. Elizabeth C. "Liz" Lloyd, a resident of WVD. Dr. Lloyd created the fund to ensure WVD employees could receive some financial assistance to pursue nursing education.

This year, three WVD employees received this scholarship; Terry Hurley, LPN, Nwaego Ukanwa, Certified Nursing Assistant (CNA), and Tianina Hanzer, CNA. All three recipients are currently attending Delaware Technical & Community College pursuing an Associate Degree in Nursing.

The Recipients

Terry Hurley began his employment with Westminster 4 ½ years ago. Terry has been an LPN in WVD's health center since February 2014 but began his career with WVD as a Transportation Coordinator and later worked with special projects. Terry chose the field of nursing realizing,

"I should be using the gifts I was given at birth, to provide for the general welfare and well being of all the members of my human family, all my co-workers and all those I serve." Terry's goal is to become a Nurse Practitioner and he desires to serve WVD as a Nurse Practitioner.

Nwaego Ukanwa has been with Westminster Village Dover as a CNA for three years. Nwaego developed a passion for nursing and chose to study in the field after living with and caring for her grandmother until she expired.

"I want to make a difference in other people's lives, particularly the sick and dying," says Nwaego. Working as a CNA, taking care of residents one on one, Nwaego has learned that nursing is a challenging but a rewarding career field.

Tianina Hanzer is a CNA with WVD for five years. Like Nwaego, Tianina feels that although nursing can be challenging at times, it can also be rewarding. Tianina chose to become a nurse because she loves to make a difference in the lives of others. Tianina has three children and believes becoming a nurse will also help her to better support her family. Tianina states, "In the nursing field, I know every day I will touch a life or a life will touch me."

Dr. Lloyd passed away on May 15, 2005 but her legacy lives on in each employee who has benefited from her scholarship fund and who continues to provide nursing care to WVD health center residents.

Westminster Woods Walks with a Purpose

During the month of May, Westminster Woods' residents along with their families and community staff participated in a walking program as part of the community's Masterpiece Living (MPL), a successful aging initiative launched last year in all Presbyterian Senior Living communities. The purpose of the walking program was to increase physical activity and help the people of Haiti with a donation of shoes.

Participants in the Walk with a Purpose program enrolled with a donation of gently used shoes that were sent to the people of Haiti through the efforts of Kevin Nestor, member of Most Holy Trinity Church. Nestor, along with Father Arsenault, works with a sister parish in Los Lomas, Haiti. As keynote speaker for the Kickoff Event, Nestor offered a slide presentation on his work and the people of Haiti to many interested residents and staff.

A total of 86 participants tracked their daily steps with a pedometer provided by the program to meet the challenge of logging 1,555 miles or 3,284,202 steps; the distance to Port Au Prince, Haiti where the shoes would be donated.

In an effort to engage residents in all levels of living, families and staff, an "Adopt a Walker" program was created. The program involved taking interested residents on pre-measured paths inside The Homestead personal care and The Oaks skilled nursing center, or outdoors on the Westminster Woods' campus. Residents were identified by a symbol of a blue sneaker attached to their mobility device so "adoption" was easily acknowledged.

Additional activities included a Prayer Walk around the Village Green led by Rev. Harold Williams, Chaplain at Westminster Woods. Residents also participated in several types of exercise programs led by Shafer Earley, Personal Trainer at the Terrace Fitness Center.

The program concluded with an ice-cream social celebration. Residents and staff logged over 11 million steps far exceeding their goal to reach Haiti. A total of 12 large boxes of shoes of all types and sizes were collected and sent to the people of Haiti.

MPL Program Coordinators, Linda Shultz-Long and Cathy Zumpetta were pleased with the high level of participation and total number of steps and minutes logged. "The 'Walk with a Purpose' is a good example of Westminster Wood's active lifestyle and ongoing commitment to our culture of successful aging," said Zumpetta. "Westminster Woods offers more than just a walking program for active adults," said Shultz-Long. "Westminster Woods engages residents at all levels of living to experience a more satisfying and energized life."

Praying in Color at Westminster Village

Both residents in the healthcare center and residents in the independent living community at Westminster Village in Allentown have taken part in a new activity: "Praying in Color" based on the book by Sybil MacBeth.

Residents gather together with the Chaplain and Community Life Assistant to learn to pray in a new way using colorful drawings that open up a new path to communication with God. Family members also enjoy taking part (pictured with their "prayer art" are Arlene Buki and daughter Helen who have attended every session so far).

Praying in Color is an active prayer practice that does not have to involve words but allows residents to doodle and color their intercessory prayers for others to God.

Crayons, markers, colored pencils and stencils are used to create prayer on paper; as they doodle and create, they sometimes listen to favorite hymns and/or share their prayers with each other. Drawing and coloring is only part of the process because the artwork reminds them to pray throughout the rest of the day.

The residents are told: "It's the process, not the final product" when their artwork doesn't come out perfectly. Praying in Color brings us together to use creativity and to offer up prayers in a new way. The artwork becomes a visual reminder of the time they spend together in prayer.

"Pray without ceasing"
