

Annual Trafficking Day:

The Role of the Church in Modern Day Slavery

October 21, 2017

9:30 AM – 12:30 PM

Franciscan Spiritual Center

Join others who are interested in learning more about Human Trafficking: The Role of the Church in Modern-Day Slavery. The presenters will enlighten us on this topic, welcome questions/comments, guide small group discussions, and challenge us to move from the head (knowledge) to the heart (action founded on love).

Since Human Trafficking lurks in every corner of the earth and is a lucrative business, it is our responsibility to join hands and hearts and trust the Holy Spirit to use us to bring an end to modern slavery.

RSVP to Sister Mary Ann McCarthy at mccarthm@neumann.edu
at least 2 weeks before the session
you want to attend.
