

Risk Control Liability Services

Protect your interests

Our seasoned Risk Control professionals consult with organizations to uncover opportunities, strengthen controls and improve overall liability risk management. From assessing your risk, to program development and enhancement, to offering suggestions for further consideration, PMA's liability experts are here to lead the way.

Premises Operations

PMA is uniquely qualified to partner with your organization to protect your interests. Do you need help identifying and controlling exposures that may lead to guests having injuries on your premises? Our Risk Control consultants, in concert with our savvy Business Analytics team, drill through and evaluate historical loss data to uncover trends pointing to future losses. We examine the physical conditions present as well as the human factors affecting loss potential. We collaborate with you to promote strategies for premises safety and security—to prevent accidents from the start.

Product Liability

Whether your organization manufactures, imports, modifies, assembles, repackages, distributes or retails products for businesses or consumers, product liability losses can occur in the most litigious society on earth. What is the nature of your unique liability? What keeps you up at night? PMA Companies consults with our clients on methods of risk transfer and other available safeguards to protect their financial interests. We evaluate product liability exposures, review your compliance with applicable standards, share best practices and offer recommendations to help PMA clients close gaps and reduce risk.

Completed Operations

Our consultants thoughtfully consider the services rendered by our clients and contracted associates—and the potential property damage or injuries that could result. We take a risk assessment approach, asking key questions of the leadership team regarding competencies or certifications of those completing the work, processes, quality control, verification of properly completed work, documentation and record retention. Are you taking full advantage of opportunities to transfer risk? Together we identify areas to be strengthened and design a goal-oriented plan guiding the safety improvement process.
