

PMA's Organizational Safety Institute

Virtual learning at its best

PMA Companies is committed to helping our clients strengthen their risk management efforts in a variety of ways, including virtually through our Organizational Safety Institute. Live and on-demand sessions led by our subject matter experts can help your organization and you lead change to obtain optimum results. Our unique learning events reflect our passion for organizational safety, health and wellness—and our desire to make a tangible difference.

Our Offerings and Approach to Sharing Insights

Our event schedule allows you to take advantage of one of the most practical and relevant risk management curriculums in the industry, with each session geared towards organizational influencers in your organization.

In our sessions, we highlight common problems and challenges associated with organizational safety issues, then follow through with a discussion of key principles, resources and strategies to help you apply them in your workplace. Our learning events are typically offered in one of four areas:

- 1. Leadership, Safety & Risk Management: These sessions offer “best practice” guidance and insights to help you impact your safety culture and overall results. Topics are designed to help you turn common challenges into risk improvement strategies.
- 2. Compliance Pathways: These sessions are based on the OSHA standards and typically include OSHA.gov resources to aid in your compliance efforts.
- 3. Industry-Focused Learning: These industry-specific sessions address key issues and challenges relevant to individual industries. Each session will be led by our industry teams or subject matter experts.
- 4. Emerging & Seasonal Issues: These timely sessions can include current, hard-hitting topics, emerging areas of interest, or may simply address seasonal issues that deserve attention.

The PMA Organizational Safety Institute Difference

Technical and Organizational Solutions: Our learning events are decidedly different than traditional webinars or information-only events. We begin with your organization and you in mind and understand risk improvement often comes by addressing one challenge at a time. We also realize there are both technical and organizational solutions to most problems; thus, we speak to both aspects of risk improvement in a well-rounded manner.

Resources for Immediate Application: Additionally, an Organizational Safety Institute event on our live schedule will always be instructor-led with an open Q & A during the event. Our resources will allow you to make immediate application of the session materials. Resources typically include note-taking guides and access to subject matter experts as well as access to our on-demand library of past Institute events.

Professional and Organizational Development: So, whether your aim is to solve a problem, develop a risk improvement strategy or simply develop as a professional, PMA's Organizational Safety Institute can help you effectively meet these needs. Registration for events is available through our monthly schedule (delivered via email) or by logging into PMA Webservice via our website, www.pmacompanies.com.
