1. Hiring Manager

Dear <insert name>,

My name is <insert your name> and I would love to schedule a mini interview. I've heard great things about your company culture and would like to learn more about the hiring and selection process. I'm developing a series on LinkedIn Publisher (or your blog) featuring local employers who have great reputations, sharing with the community just what makes <insert company name> a great place to work.

The interview would take no more than 30 minutes. It's a Q&A style format. I'd love to schedule a time to stop by and meet with you in person and get a tour of the offices before publishing my story.

Sincerely,

<insert your name>
