Area of Expertise

I bring a unique combination of education, experience and project management abilities to successfully meet LCK's clients' needs. I have a broad background in industrial, commercial, governmental and healthcare related projects. As a chemical engineer, I have encountered many opportunities in my career which have strengthened my ability to manage a profitable project. My project management role at LCK includes project feasibility and planning, the selection of consultants, architects, engineers, and contractors, and oversight of each throughout the lifespan of a construction project.

I leverage my industrial and medical experience to manage the technical aspects of LCK assignments. Achieving a client's goals is the most rewarding part of what I do.

Business and Educational Background

I earned a Bachelor of Science degree from Clemson University in Chemical Engineering. Additional strengths include business development, real estate development, client communication and planning.

Prior to joining LCK, I served as the Design Project Manager for a Columbia-based design/build firm where I led teams for industrial, healthcare, education, government, commercial projects located across the Carolinas and Georgia. I also was involved in site selection, building assessments, and due diligence studies. I have previously held project engineering positions with BASF Corporation and Sandoz Chemicals, managing both national and international industrial and facility projects from inception to completion.

In addition to my project management background, I have experience as the Director of Marketing for the South Carolina Department of Commerce, managing a team to identify and recruit both national and international companies to expand or relocate to the state of South Carolina.

Personal

I enjoy studying history from an international to local perspective, with a good book always in progress. I follow with pride all Clemson University athletics and am a lifelong golfer and a past President of Spring Valley Country Club. I appreciate the opportunity to contribute to my community and getting to know the people behind my projects.
