

WORLD TOKENOMIC FORUM

ANNUAL SUMMIT CODE OF CONDUCT

The Annual Summit in Grand Cayman has many stakeholders that ensure its success; among them are the Members, Partners and constituents of the World Tokenomic Forum and the citizens of the Cayman Islands. For all stakeholders, what is most important is to preserve our powerful core values and practice generosity in every interaction and embody the spirit of Grand Cayman and the diversity of our global community in a give-first, impartial and sustainable manner.

To avoid issues or unsustainable habits we ask all Annual Summit participants, Sandcastle Challenge competitors, and selected media partners attending any of our 'officially hosted' satellite events throughout the year adhere to our formal Code of Conduct.

The Code describes five simple behaviours that we want to promote and that ensure the embodiment of our 6 core values by each and every participant.

All participants in the Annual Summit are requested to know and to observe the Code.

Breach of the Code may result in forfeiture of your membership and your subsequent participation in the Annual Summit

CORE VALUE: Practice Generosity in every interaction.

1. Do not engage in predominantly commercial activities during the Annual Summit. The World Tokenomic Forum is a social-good think tank and impact investment company based in the Cayman Enterprise City SEZC . As such, Annual Summit participants are expected to respect and embody the social good nature of the membership and its annual event and Sandcastle Startups Challenge and prevent it from becoming too commercial or purely transactional in style. Your contact person at the Forum can provide you with further clarification on this important Point.

CORE VALUE: Respect for individuality and sovereignty are the DNA that gives our collective fabric its richness.

2. Observe the Chatham House Rule by the UK Royal Institute of International Affairs, in all situations. All sessions of the Annual Summit of the World Tokenomic Forum abide by the Chatham House Rule, unless otherwise specified and notified as “on the record” or “open to the press.” The Chatham House Rule stipulates that: “When a meeting, or part thereof, is held under the Chatham House Rule, participants are free to use the information received, but neither the identity nor the affiliation of the speaker(s), nor that of any other participant, may be revealed.” We must ask all participants to respect “zero tolerance” with regard to violating this important community rule.

CORE VALUE: The best way to get a seat at the table is to bring the table and set the table.

3. We encourage you to create and add special value to the community during the Annual Summit as an expression of this core value, however, we require that you avoid organizing private events or functions that conflict with the official program of the Annual Summit or Sandcastle Startups Challenge as your participation as a member is vital to the outcomes of these discussions and competitions and helps drive our missions.

Plenty of opportunities for planned (officially sanctioned private events) and unplanned (unofficial private events) will exist during your days in Grand Cayman to allow you the full flexibility to customize your overall experience and value. As the sessions in the program and our Annual Sandcastle Startups Challenge competition form the core of the Annual Summit’s mission to advance our purpose and vision we require that you respect this rule and do not create conflicts that could segregate our membership base during critical aspects of the official program.

. Participants are expected to make every effort to participate in the sessions and to respect the Forum’s scheduling guidelines for outside events (your contact person at the Forum can provide them to you).

CORE VALUE: Diversity is the foundation of our meritocracy because exclusion hinders the realization of our potential.

CORE VALUE: Radical Transparency must be cultivated daily

4. The World Tokenomic Forum limits the amount of new memberships available by design and this exclusivity is actually designed to ensure that we maximize the inclusivity and diversity of our membership based upon a meritocracy. With this in mind we value your recommendations and will put our best efforts to evaluate each request for membership in a fair and equal manner, but we forbid members from extending official invitations to guests who are not registered members and approved participants in the Annual Summit.

Grand Cayman is not a large island or town. To avoid overcrowded streets, venues and hotels, invitations should not be extended to individuals who would not otherwise be participating in the Annual Summit outside of immediate family members that are brought down to enjoy all that Caymanian culture has to offer while you are working.

Members and participants agree that all video or related media captured during the official program of events by World Tokenomic Forum is its sole property and participants irrevocably agree to a general release for the unrestricted use of those media assets by World Tokenomic Forum on its web and media properties.

CORE VALUE: The best ideas must win regardless of their origin.

5. Support the Sandcastle Startups Challenge initiative and its competitors with your time, energy, and potentially capital and connections . Our Annual Summit hosts the world's largest blockchain technologies startup competition in the world and brings 32 of the most elite teams and innovative technologies from around the globe to Grand Cayman to showcase their solutions, receive critical feedback from our membership community and the connections, capital and partnerships that will help them make the world better for all humanity. This is a fundamental DNA strand to how World Tokenomic Forum manifests its purpose:

PURPOSE:

We build bridges and tear down walls between decentralized and centralized economic institutions to create a new economic order that works for all humanity, honors innovation, and secures sovereignty.

Grand Cayman is not Silicon Valley but it has the same first-world infrastructure and technological infrastructure. It has been chosen because of its globally accessible airport yet uniquely small and intimate environment and status as the 5th largest banking center in the world. It and its Special Economic Zone in Cayman Enterprise City are committed to helping regulators develop a proper framework for cryptocurrencies, while remaining a whitelist offshore jurisdiction for global companies to drive new innovation, store their intellectual property, access global capital markets, and develop high-tech local jobs and provide talent with a wonderful environment to live and work.
