

I Can Read Too!
Summer Book Clubs for Students with Learning Disabilities

I Can Read Too! is a book club for children with dyslexia, dysgraphia or other learning differences that may potentially hinder their love of reading during the school year. These groups offer a welcoming and social environment that will encourage your child to not only read over the summer, but actually look forward to it! Each session will be engaging and interactive and play to a child's strengths. As the children in these clubs are creative learners and thinkers, each discussion, assignment and project will be hands-on and fun! Up to three (3) students may be enrolled in each group. A specially selected book about a child who either has a learning disability or has to overcome a challenge will be used for each group:

Cost

Programs are offered in 6 session bundles. Full payment of $300.00 is required at the time of enrollment. These sessions are not billable to insurance and are non-refundable. Unexpected provider-cancelled sessions will be rescheduled to a designated make-up date and offered at no additional cost. To ensure optimal placement, a free 15-minute phone intake is required before enrolling to review presenting concerns and medical history. Weekly attendance is strongly encouraged to build continuity of skills. Attendees make more progress with consistent attendance to review and practice skills.

- Families purchase and bring the book to every session.
- A minimum of two participants is required for the group.
- Individual sessions are available in lieu of a group.
