Steve Rasmussen

Regional Sales Leader
J. Manning & Associates

Steve Rasmussen is a Regional Sales Leader for J. Manning & Associates and brings over 10 years of voluntary benefits experience.

Prior to joining J, Manning & Associates, Steve was the Director of Insurance Strategies at Beneplace, LLC., a voluntary benefits management company based in Austin, TX. Steve started at Beneplace as an Account Executive in 2007 and successfully built and grew his block of business over the last decade. Steve was focused on bringing valuable programs to his clients in a creative way that increases their usage and helps promote the employers retention initiatives.

Steve has worked in the voluntary benefits space his entire career, helping groups develop strategies to enhance their core benefits programs and helping them to become a more attractive employer to potential employees. As the industry continue to evolve with new products and new ways to solve for Long-term care needs, he is excited to help clients and broker partners bring these solutions to the table.

Steve holds a bachelor's degree in Education with a Minor in Business from the University of Texas at Austin.
