LUNCH

Revision Management

ProAuthor, Document & Communication Manager, Standards365

Simplify the Process of Operational Updates

Organizations are bombarded with constant change, often leading to continual updates to the manuals you use to operate your business. Whether driven by regulatory, safety, or engineering, incorporating changes should not disrupt your business. See how Comply365 makes updating your documentation simple, so you can focus on other routine and non-routine priorities.

BREAK

Stay Audit Ready by Tracking Standards and Sign Offs

See how Comply365's Content Management and Distribution Platform (ProAuthor, DCM, Standards365), enables organizations to eliminate months of manual work by automating audit preparation with standards tracing, user sign-off tracking, and automated reporting.

Reduce Inefficiency by Re-using Content

Managing similar and duplicate content across Airline Operating Certificates (AOCs), fleets and between manuals can be riddled with inefficiencies. See how Comply365's Content Management and Distribution Platform (ProAuthor, DCM, Standards365) resolves the challenges that introduce such inefficiencies, and hear use cases where the Comply365 tools provide a beneficial solution.

Document & Data Distribution

Document & Communication Manager, Forms365

Ensure Crews Are Always Equipped with the Right Data

Comply365 has led the way to equipping the right people with the correct information when they need it. See how organizations are using DCM and the Comply365 mobile app to keep their teams informed, current and compliant.

Prove Compliance Using DCM & Mobile Reports

Comply365's Mobile Solutions enable organizations to quickly and efficiently distribute critical information to end users and empower them to achieve their job objectives. The solutions allow organizations to track the end users' consumption of the information and have real-time compliance visibility. See how Comply365's DCM and Mobile Reports enable organizations to track, monitor, report and prove compliance and consumption.

Collect and Analyzing Compliance Data

Staying compliant requires two-way communication. Organizations must collect and distribute data. See how organizations can use Comply365 to improve efficiency and compliance through standardized data collection, automated tracking, and data analysis within a single platform by leveraging DCM, Forms365, and mobile distribution.

Training

LMS Learning Manager, AQP Learning Manager, Qual365

Ensure an Objective Qualification Program

See how Comply365 helps organizations eliminate subjectivity when determining whether a trainee has successfully met qualification criteria. Explore how LMS, AQP and Qual365 enforce objectivity by allowing organizations to create decision-making rules to mitigate human factors, human error, and lag time when qualifying or disqualifying trainees.

Stay Audit Ready by Automating Qualification Decisions

Maintain an audit-ready state by enabling real-time decisions in the employee qualification process. Learn how to use Qual365 to automate qualifications tracking to determine whether to approve a qualification record, require personnel review, or disqualify a trainee without administrative review or intervention. See how to display qualification status and real-time audit reporting for users based on information relevant to their current job assignment - so that you're ready to pass an audit on the spot, with no additional work.

Train the Mobile Team Member

A growing mobile workforce and an increasingly virtual workplace create challenges for organizations to train remote employees thoroughly and cost-effectively. Learn how Comply365 accomplishes these goals for organizations like yours by leveraging our leading mobile solution and off-line availability through Qual365, LMS and AQP.
