Did you know...

... that the Hundred Years' War lasted 116 years?

... that chewing gum was accidentally invented while again trying to create a new kind of rubber?

... that Google was almost called Backrub?

Actually, only two of those statements are true. Your job is to figure out which one is the fake!

Welcome to Two Truths and a Tall Tale. On every page you'll find three statements—two of them are true, and one... well, not so much. To figure out which one is false, you might use your superior knowledge. ("I thought William Fleer invented chewing gum.") You might just take a wild guess. ("I know, number 3!") Or you might ask someone for their advice or look up the answer somewhere.

And just a hint—don't always assume the most outlandish statement is the false one. Sometimes truth really is stranger than fiction.

There are a few ways to play Two Truths and a Tall Tale. You can play by yourself—but no cheating!

You can also play in a group. Have someone read the questions and let people take turns guessing which one is false. Who knows, they might actually know the answer right off.

Or make it a race. That's right—take out your phones or tablets and Google (or Backrub) the answers. Either way you and your soon-to-be well-informed friends will have a great time learning interesting facts like these:

More people work in the Empire State Building than live in Iceland.

Twinkies were named after a line of shoes.

Massachusetts has its own state polka...

...or does it?

Can you Detect the Tall Tale?

The Famous and Infamous

Which one of these statements is blatantly false?

1. Thomas Edison, the inventor of the electric lightbulb, was afraid of the dark.
2. Billy the Kid was not really a kid. He was 43 years old when he died in a gunfight.
3. President William H. Taft had a cow at the White House that provided milk for his family and guests.

I think you misspelled
"hygienic."

Great Women in History

Interesting facts about some amazing ladies of the past.

1. Even though England's culture in the 1500s is called the Elizabethan Age, Queen Elizabeth I died before such creative artists as Shakespeare and Christopher Marlowe came on the scene.
2. It took more than 50 years for the work of Susan B. Anthony to bring about the Nineteenth Amendment, giving women the right to vote.
3. Running low on medical supplies at the Battle of Bull Run during the Civil War, Clara Barton placed an ad in the newspaper, asking for donations.

Can you Detect the Tall Tale?

Amazing Technology

Which of these facts are true and which one has been...ahem...invented?

1. The first barcode to be scanned was on a pack of Wrigley's gum.
2. The electric chair was invented by a dentist.
3. Walt Disney developed the technology of videotape recording in the early 1930s.

TV or Not TV

Which one of these techy facts isn't technically a fact?

1. The Academy Awards, or Oscars, were first televised on March 19, 1953.
2. More than 60 percent of American households watched the final episode of *M*A*S*H* in 1983.
3. Dwight Eisenhower was the first US president to appear on television.

Can you Detect the Tall Tale?

5 Fun Food Facts, Part 1

Some delicious tidbits of trivia to whet your appetite.

1. PEZ, the name of the popular candy treat that comes in the cool character dispensers, is actually short for the German word for peppermint.
2. The founder of In-N-Out Burger and the founder of Shake Shack are second cousins.
3. A large serving of movie-theater popcorn has more calories than 5½ McDonald's cheeseburgers.

7 Fun Food Facts, Part 3

Just when you thought you knew everything there was to know about food...

1. Idahoans celebrate New Year's by dropping a big potato.
2. The oldest soft drink in the United States is Pepsi Cola.
3. A ripe cranberry will bounce like a tiny basketball.

6 Fun Food Facts, Part 2

Delicious food facts to suit your taste.

1. Pound cake got its name in England, where it was developed, because the cake cost a pound to purchase.
2. The fortune cookie was invented in the United States, not in China.
3. The state vegetable of Oklahoma is the watermelon.

1 The Famous and Infamous

1. Number 1 is true. Edison was afraid of the dark. Perhaps that's what led him to create his most famous invention.
2. Did you choose 2? You're right! Billy the Kid was only 19 or 20 years old when he died in a gunfight with Sheriff Pat Garrett.
3. President Taft did indeed own a cow named Pauline that lived at the White House. As part of a cost-cutting program, Pauline provided milk for the residents.

2 Great Women in History

1. If you guessed number 1 was fake, good job! The good Queen had front-row seats for many of Shakespeare's and Marlowe's productions. Those guys were household names during much of her reign.
2. This is true! Susan B. Anthony began her campaign for women's suffrage (the right to vote) in about 1851. The Nineteenth Amendment was signed into law in 1920—14 years after her death.
3. Number 3 is true too. When Ms. Barton saw that medicine and supplies were running low, she cleverly used the press. She placed an ad asking for donations. She and her coworkers were overwhelmed by the response and received enough supplies to last until the end of the war.

3 Amazing Technology

1. It's true—the first barcode was scanned on a pack of Wrigley's gum on June 26, 1974. Now they're everywhere.
2. Yikes! This one is true too. Dr. Alfred Southwick invented the electrocution device in 1881. Apparently his dental practice was going through a slow time. You wouldn't want him to do your root canal.
3. If you chose number 3, good job! Even though Disney was a creative genius, TV wasn't even around much in the 1930s, so there would be no need for videotape. Besides, he was too busy producing Snow White.

4 TV or Not TV

1. This is true! The first televised Academy Awards show was in 1953. The ceremony was held at the RKO Pantages Theater in Hollywood, and Bob Hope was the host.
2. This is also true. Approximately 105.9 million people were tuned in to say farewell to Hawkeye, Hunnicutt, Winchester, Houlihan, Potter, Klinger, and the rest.
3. If you chose number 3, you win! The first US president to appear on television was Franklin Delano Roosevelt on April 30, 1939. He was speaking at the opening of the New York World's Fair.

Fun Food Facts, Part 1

1. This is true. PEZ is short for Pfefferminz (say that three times), which is German for peppermint.
2. Totally false. Harry Snyder (1913–1976) started In-N-Out Burger on the West Coast ten years before Danny Meyer was even born, and the two aren't related. Meyer started Shake Shack on the East Coast as a food cart in 2000. If you chose this one as being false, you're cookin'!
3. This is true too. A large popcorn at the theater also has more calories than four scrambled eggs, four strips of bacon, and four sausages. Think about that the next time you visit the cineplex.

Fun Food Facts, Part 2

1. Actually this isn't true. The term "pound cake" is from eighteenth-century Europe, where the recipe was created. It called for a pound of flour, a pound of sugar, a pound of eggs, and a pound of butter. (The original cake was more than twice the size of what we make now.)
2. The "Chinese" fortune cookie was created either at the Benkyodo bakery in San Francisco or at the Hong Kong Noodle Company in Los Angeles. But the point is, it was in the States, not in China.
3. This is true too. Weird but true. Oklahoma's state vegetable is the watermelon—a fruit.

Fun Food Facts, Part 3

1. This is a truism. Taking the lead from New York City, the people of Boise, Idaho, ring in the New Year not by dropping a giant crystal and glass ball but by dropping a big potato.
2. If you guessed number 2 was false, you know your sugary soft drinks! Believe it or not the first soft drink with a name was Dr. Pepper. It was created in 1885, a year before Coca Cola came on the scene. Pepsi came along in 1893. But generic root beer beat them all, being introduced in 1876.
3. This is true too. A ripe cranberry should bounce like a ball.

SECRET 1

Escaping Aggressive Mobs

My fingers and arms are a blur of activity. I just spawned into a brand-new game, and I don't have a second to spare. I stack block after block, trying to craft my shelter before darkness falls. Finally, the roof is attached.

Whew—that's a good start.

I race around my crude shelter, adding torches. Light is a player's best friend. I knock out some holes on each wall and fill them with blocks of glass. Eventually I'll add some cool details, like stained glass, a fancy corridor that will lead to my mine, and several more rooms—sleeping chambers, a crafting room, a big dining hall. But I can't worry about those things just yet. My number one priority is to protect myself from eminent danger.

Uh-oh, I see movement in the trees. Better hurry.

I tap into my resources and build some heavy wooden doors to keep out the mobs. Yikes—I don't have enough weapons and food yet. I have to go back outside, but I'm losing time.

Here they come.

Moans, groans, and hissing sounds fill the air as an army of Minecraft monsters invade my world. There are fast-moving skeletons, lumbering zombies, and creepy spiders. They're definitely in attack mode. These aren't passive or neutral mobs. The creatures on my doorstep are aggressive! My best defense is shelter.

But I'm caught outside trying to gather more supplies for the night. I move as quickly as I can through the thick trees. Suddenly...creepers! They are spawning everywhere.

Quick—run!

This time my legs become a blur as I rocket home. I scream through the front door just in time and find a corner, where I hunker down for the night. (I haven't yet created a bed.)

I'm safe inside...for now.

After what seems like an eternity, nightfall covers my Minecraft world. I peek out a window. Yep, the freak show is in full swing!

But something even stranger catches my eye. I can almost see my friends among the monsters outside. I imagine a neighborhood kid named Eddie dragging his feet with the zombies. (He does a pretty good imitation.) Skinny Kyle is blending in with the skeletons. And the more I look, the more I realize that Minecraft mobs are like different groups at school. My best friends are creative and nice and fun to joke around with. Some kids are passive and move right past me as if I didn't exist. There are other kids whom I don't know that well but who are good to be with when the teacher gives us team assignments.

My smile quickly fades as I think about a not-so-fun group: the mean kids.

You know the types—those who love to make fun of people... otherwise known as bullies. And to be honest, that's who I'm up against right now.

At school, bullies walk around in groups, acting as if they own the place. And when one turns his attention on me, the rest of them seem to want a piece of the action. They say they are just joking around and I shouldn't get upset, but their hateful words spawn like a creeper mob.

GROWL...HHHHIISSSS...KABOOM!

That all-too familiar sound snaps me back to gameplay. I glance out the window again and cringe. The creepers are multiplying—and they're everywhere!

What else will the darkness bring?

GAMEPLAY SECRETS

Mobs (short for “mobiles”) are a fact of life in Minecraft. They include villagers, animals, and monsters. They can turn otherwise peaceful gameplay into turmoil. The aggressive mobs are the worst ones. They attack players on sight, and not just when they're provoked.

But I have a survival tip that can save your life...

Dragee90's Best Tip

Monsters cannot see through glass or ice blocks. So always build windows on your shelter. This way, you can spy on them without being detected.

REAL-LIFE SECRETS

Read It

“There are six or seven kinds of people the LORD doesn't like: Those who are too proud or tell lies or murder, those who make evil plans or are quick to do wrong, those who tell lies in court or stir up trouble in a family” (Proverbs 6:16-19).

Think It

When you're attacked by creeper-controlled “aggressive mobs,” do you stop and think before you speak? Or do you push back with anger, fueling the fire? Do you pray? How would Jesus want you to react?

Live It

There will always be mean people in the world. And since we can't always avoid them, it's a good idea to have a plan for when they attack. The best defense is to know that we are wonderfully and creatively made by God. We have a special set of skills that God wants to use to make the world a better place. Our identity is not decided by a few jerks who are just trying to look cool in front of others. So take a deep breath and resist fighting back in the same hurtful ways. Instead, find shelter. God has our back, and He has given us real friends. Step back and look at the troublemakers through the glass window. You'll quickly see their actions in a new light.

Putting on Your Protective Armor

Go, go, go...and then jump! Downward I fly until I land safely on the glass ceiling of my dome. I don't see any danger, but I know it's just around the corner. I may as well go into the woods to see what adventures this world has to offer.

I race through the trees, dodging branches, cliffs, and the occasional animal. I move toward a warm orange glow just beyond the trees. Suddenly, I'm on the edge of flowing lava.

I can't go left, I can't go right, but I might be able to make it through the narrow passage straight ahead. It's decision time. Never mind! I play it smart and decide it's time to shop. So into the villager trader I go.

Sometimes we can just feel the danger ahead. It can be a group of kids who gather in the hallway at school. You know the kind—they find strength in numbers and make fun of people as they walk by. Or maybe it's a grumpy old man who likes to let his barking dogs out into the yard every time someone passes by. Or even an older sibling who is annoyed by your every move.

These everyday dangers aren't always avoidable. There are times when we have to just walk straight through them. It's a good thing we have real-life armor to wear. I'm not talking about the heavy knights-in-shining-armor kind of gear that brave warriors strapped on long, long ago. I'm talking about the armor of God. God has given us armor that helps us do more than just survive. He has given us truth, righteousness, justice, peace, faith, and His Spirit. Best of all, it's free. We don't have to save up, purchase it, or even earn it. It's just a bonus of being a child of God. All we have to do is grab it, wear it, and walk through life's lava pits with confidence.

Back in the game, I notice that I have a lot of iron units to tap into as I trade for some armor. I choose boots, a helmet, and some trousers. Done. I jump back into the game and check my armor durability in the corner of my screen.

It's time to run for my life. I lean forward and run on the middle path right through the lava. For a moment, I can't even see what my next step holds. But I push through.

Wow...those trousers and boots saved me. There's no way I could have made it past that lava pit without them.

I check my armor level again, and I still have a lot of defensive points left.

GAMEPLAY SECRETS

Leather, gold, chain mail, iron, and diamond—each of these elements can be crafted into a player’s all-important armor. And wearing this kind of protection is essential for survival, especially in PVP (player versus player).

Dragee90’s Best Tip

I like to create my armor out of diamonds. They provide the greatest defense against attack, but they’re also the hardest to acquire. Also, always wear your armor (and bring a torch) when you head into a dark place, such as a mine.

REAL-LIFE SECRETS

Read It

“Be ready! Let the truth be like a belt around your waist, and let God’s justice protect you like armor. Your desire to tell the good news about peace should be like shoes on your feet. Let your faith be like a shield, and you will be able to stop all the flaming arrows of the evil one. Let God’s saving power be like a helmet, and for a sword use God’s message that comes from the Spirit” (Ephesians 6:14-17).

Think It

Are you wearing the armor of God? Exactly what is it? (Look at the verses above and identify each piece.)

Live It

I’d never face a hostile Minecraft mob without my armor...and it’s the same way in real life. So just as today’s Bible passage instructs, I put on my spiritual armor:

The belt of truth and the Bible, our sword. The better my grasp of Scripture, the bigger my belt buckle. So I read God’s Word.

The gospel of peace, our combat boots. If we’re not wearing our combat boots, it’s like we’re walking on thorny ground in bare feet. It’s a good idea to put them on before leaving the house. How? Connect with Jesus through prayer and share your faith through your very life—being kind and loving to others.

The shield of faith. Jesus is our shield (Psalm 84:11) and the source of our faith (Galatians 2:20). He protects us from the flaming arrows of the evil one.

The helmet of salvation. Salvation is all about a thrilling life with Jesus, which is His gift to us (John 10:10). Every minute we’re enjoying that excitement, our helmet is on. And with that helmet firmly in place, our minds are guarded from Satan’s lies.

God Loves Misfits

But God is so rich in mercy, and he loved us so much, that even though we were dead because of our sins, he gave us life when he raised Christ from the dead.

—Ephesians 2:4-5

You might think someone as amazing as Jesus would have come from a line of rich and famous people who totally followed God and never did anything wrong, but that's actually not true at all. Some of the people in Jesus's family tree were poor. Others were thought of as different or strange. Some were big-time sinners. You can even add wicked kings to the bunch. The truth is, Jesus came from a long line of misfits!

Your family doesn't have a lot of money? No problem! Jesus Himself was born in a stable, the son of a carpenter, not a prince who was born in a palace. You're not the most popular person in your class? That's just fine! Jesus wasn't very popular with His own people. Your best friend isn't speaking to you? Not to worry! Jesus knew what it was like to have a best friend turn on Him.

Want to know something really crazy? Jesus was a misfit. Totally telling the truth here! No, He didn't sin. But He did

His own thing. He didn't act the way people expected Him to act. He didn't hang out with the people others expected Him to hang out with. He may not have even looked the way people expected Him to look. The people were expecting a powerful king, not some carpenter-turned-teacher who was leading around a sketchy group of followers. You might even call Him the "misfit Messiah."

That's good news for us! You can be exactly who you are, and God will love you. You don't have to look perfect. You don't have to act perfect. You don't have to be perfect at all. You just have to believe that Jesus—who was perfect—was the Son of God and that He died for your sins (your imperfections). That's all that matters to Him!

▶ Jesus, thank You for Your love and grace. Thank You that I don't have to be perfect and that You love me and accept me just the way I am.

Take This with You

Even though I'm not perfect,
God still loves me.

Peanut Butter Rice Krispies Treats

My grandmother's Peanut Butter Rice Krispies Treats were the first thing I ever learned to make on my own. I was eight the first time I could make them, and I still make them to this day. So of course this is a recipe I wanted to share with my kids! My son kept telling me he could make them by himself too, so when we had time in the kitchen...just the two of us...I let him "make" them. I did the stove part since he's only five, but he did the rest!

INGREDIENTS

1 cup sugar

1 cup light corn syrup

1 cup creamy peanut butter

6 cups Rice Krispies cereal

In a small saucepan over medium-high heat, bring the sugar and corn syrup up to a boil, stirring continuously. Once it's at a low boil, remove from heat and stir in the peanut butter. Pour the peanut butter mixture over the cereal in a large mixing bowl. Combine quickly until the cereal is covered and then spread it out in a well-greased (I use Pam) 8 x 8 baking dish. Cool at least 10 minutes before cutting into squares.
