

Skills Recognition Policy

Purpose

This policy establishes the principles and processes by which Collarts will recognise the experiences, knowledge, skills, abilities and previous qualifications students bring with them to gain entry into a Collarts VET course with regard for college rules and the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015.

Context

Under the music industry training package, competencies may be attained in a number of ways, including:

- formal or informal training and education
- work experience
- general life experience
- any combination of the above

What is Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)?

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) is an assessment process that assesses the competency/s of an individual that may have been acquired through formal, non- formal and informal learning to determine the extent to which that individual meets the requirements specified in the training package.

- a) formal learning refers to learning that takes place through a structured program of instruction and is linked to the attainment of an AQF qualification or statement of attainment (for example, a certificate, diploma or university degree);
- b) non-formal learning refers to learning that takes place through a structured program of instruction, but does not lead to the attainment of an AQF qualification or statement of attainment (for example, in-house professional development programs conducted by a business); and
- c) informal learning refers to learning that results through experience of work- related, social, family, hobby or leisure activities (for example the acquisition of interpersonal skills developed through several years as a sales representative).

How does it work?

To issue a Certificate or Statement of Attainment (for any unit), Collarts will undertake to assess the competence of individuals who believe that they already have the skills and knowledge required to meet the learning outcomes of a unit or units of competence.

Students will have to present evidence that he or she is currently competent against the endorsed industry competency standards. Such evidence may take a variety of forms and could include certification, references from past employers, testimonials from clients and work samples such as audio or video recordings.

Whilst the evidence may take a variety of forms, the onus is on the individual to provide sufficient evidence of current competence. Collarts must be able to confirm that the evidence provided is:

- Authentic - must be own work
- Valid - must relate directly to the current competencies
- Reliable - must meet the standards consistently
- Current - must be student's current capacity
- Sufficient - must cover all aspects of the relevant competency, and cover the four dimensions of competency ie task skills, task management skills, contingency management skills and job/role environment skills.

This process may be directed by the candidate and verified by the assessor, such as in the compilation of portfolios; or directed by the assessor, such as through observation of workplace performance and skills application, and oral and/or written assessment. Where the outcomes of this process indicate that the candidate is competent, structured training is not required.

- Skills recognition assessment (including RPL) shall be available to all prospective candidates.

Principles of Assessment

Fairness:	The individual learner's needs are considered in the assessment process. Where appropriate, reasonable adjustments are applied by the RTO to take into account the individual learner's needs. The RTO informs the learner about the assessment process, and provides the learner with the opportunity to challenge the result of the assessment and be reassessed if necessary.
Flexibility:	Assessment is flexible to the individual learner by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ reflecting the learner's needs; ▪ assessing competencies held by the learner no matter how or where they have been acquired; and ▪ drawing from a range of assessment methods and using those that are appropriate to the context, the unit of competency and associated assessment requirements, and the individual.
Validity:	Any assessment decision of the RTO is justified, based on the evidence of performance of the individual learner. Validity requires: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Assessment against the unit/s of competency and the associated assessment requirements covers the broad range of skills and knowledge that are essential to competent performance; ▪ Assessment of knowledge and skills is integrated with their practical application; ▪ Assessment to be based on evidence that demonstrates that a learner could demonstrate these skills and knowledge in other similar situations; and ▪ Judgement of competence is based on evidence of learner performance that is aligned to the unit/s of competency and associated assessment requirements.
Reliability:	Evidence presented for assessment is consistently interpreted and assessment results are comparable irrespective of the assessor conducting the assessment.

Rules of Evidence

Validity:	The assessor is assured that the learner has the skills, knowledge and attributes as described in the module or unit of competency and associated assessment requirements.
Sufficiency:	The assessor is assured that the quality, quantity and relevance of the assessment evidence enables a judgement to be made of a learner's competency
Authenticity:	The assessor is assured that the evidence presented for assessment is the learner's own work.
Currency:	The assessor is assured that the assessment evidence demonstrates current competency. This requires the assessment evidence to be from the present or the very recent past.
