

Job Description

Job Title:	DevOps Engineer
Location:	Dublin, Ireland
Role:	Permanent

TDS is a security solutions provider for some of the largest and most recognisable organisations in the world including:

Due to an increase in client business, an opportunity exists within our Software Development Team located in Citywest, Dublin for a Dev Ops Engineer.

You will be expected to:

- Plan and implement the installation, configuration, backup and recovery of Oracle databases and deployment of our applications to Java EE application servers, both in cloud and on premise.
- Contribute to the maintenance of database installation and upgrade scripts.
- Design and configure automated monitoring and alerting systems for our production systems.
- Monitor and respond to and resolve faults and outages within SLAs.
- Contribute to the overall architecture of our systems, improving deployment and maintenance procedures.
- Ad hoc duties as required.

Requirements: -

A good knowledge of Oracle security, Web application security and general IT knowledge. - Excellent English communication skills with the ability to work within a team environment

To be considered you must have

- Bachelor's Degree in Engineering or Science essential
- 3 years' experience in a similar role.
- Excellent knowledge of Oracle Database

- Experience with managing Java EE servers such as Glassfish and Tomcat.
- Excellent SQL skills, experience with an SQL extension such as PL/SQL is essential.
- Excellent knowledge of Oracle data transfer tools such as Data Pump
- Good knowledge if networking fundamentals (DNS, HTTP, Firewalls)
- Good knowledge of Oracle security, Web application security and general IT knowledge.
- Excellent communication skills with the ability to work within a team environment.

What you can expect from us :

- 23 days Annual Leave per year
- Competitive salary
- Bonus potential
- Pension Contributions (upon completion of probation period)
- Discounted healthcare group scheme
- Bike to Work scheme and Tax Saver Travel card initiatives
- Flexible working environment
- Career progression
- Health and wellbeing program
- Sponsored charity events