Job Description

Job Title:	Software Development Engineer
Location:	Dublin, Ireland
Reporting to:	CTO
Role:	Permanent

TDS is a security solutions provider for some of the largest and most recognisable organisations in the world including:

As a Software Development Engineer in TDS, you will participate in all stages of the software development life cycle, working with our experienced team of Developers, Testers, DBA's and Analysts. We primarly write SCL, PL/SQL and JavaScript (ExtJS, Sencha Touch)

You will be expected to:

- Develop the TDS software products within a development team.
- Maintain the existing software products for customers.
- Document, investigate, and resolve customer requests and engineering issues.
- Take active participation in code reviews and code improvement.
- Test and develop the cases for all software that is implemented.
- Manage the internal source control and other engineering tools.
- Take active participation in the software engineering process.

What you can expect from us :

- 23 days Annual Leave per year
- Competitive salary
- Bonus potential
- Pension Contributions
- Discounted healthcare group scheme
- Bike to Work scheme and Tax Saver Travel card initatives
- Flexible working environment
- Career progression
- Health and wellbeing program
- Sponsored charity events

- Skills

- Bachelors' Degree in Engineering or Science essential.
- Exposure to a commercial RDBMS such as Oracle or SQL Server
- Excellent SQL skills, Experience with a SQL extension such as PL/SQL highly desirable, Oracle Forms experience is a plus.
- Experience using a modern JavaScript framework such as ExtJS or J-Query would be highly beneficial.
- Strong technical skills in the areas of software design and development with an eye for design layout and Usability.
- Previous Experience of a Source Code Management such as SVN
- 1-4 years' experience in software development is bonus but not essential.
- Knowledge of Other Languages we use, including Java and C++ a bonus, but not essential.
- Self-starter with strong initiatives with an ability to learn new technologies on your own and on the fly.