Bradley Brother's Legacy

In 1903, Lynde and Harry Bradley established a new business in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. It took courage and confidence for them to risk resources in a new venture, based only on their judgment of what was and their vision of what could be. The Bradleys' confidence was bolstered by the knowledge that in America, not only were they free to start a business, they could also begin again if they failed. The Bradleys, however, would not fail. Their business grew to become the internationally recognized Allen-Bradley Company.

When the Allen-Bradley Company was acquired by Rockwell International Corporation in 1985, a significant portion of the proceeds was dedicated to establishing The Lynde and Harry Bradley Foundation. Although it has no direct ties to the Allen-Bradley Company, the purpose of the Foundation is to commemorate Lynde and Harry Bradley by preserving and extending the principles and philosophy by which they lived and upon which they built their company. As their efforts succeeded, their business grew and eventually extended far beyond its Milwaukee headquarters. Lynde and Harry Bradley remained devoted to the city where they began their enterprise and in which they lived and worked for so many years. Thus, The Lynde and Harry Bradley Foundation is proud to continue its commitment to improving the quality of life in the Milwaukee metropolitan area and throughout southeastern Wisconsin.

The Bradleys lived and worked according to several philosophical principles. They believed that, over time, the consequences of ideas were more decisive than the force of political or economic movements. They recognized the interdependence of human endeavors – cultural, educational, philosophical, economic – and they rejected exclusionary emphasis on any single element. The brothers had an abiding belief in the dignity and decency of each person. They felt that only in an environment of political and economic freedom could individuals develop their talents, hone their skills and intellects, and contribute to the improvement of the human condition. The success of the Allen-Bradley Company stands as eloquent testimony to the enduring quality of these principles.

The Bradley brothers were committed to preserving and defending the tradition of free representative government and private enterprise that has also enabled the American nation and, in a larger sense, the entire Western world to flourish intellectually and economically. The Bradleys believed that the good society is a free society. The Lynde and Harry Bradley Foundation envisions a nation invigorated by the principles and institutions that uphold our unalienable rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Its mission is to restore, strengthen and protect the principles and institutions of American exceptionalism. Its programs are guided by the following principles: fidelity to the Constitution, with its principles of limited government, federalism, separation of powers, and individual liberties; commitment to free markets that allow for private enterprise, entrepreneurship and voluntary exchange within the rule of law; commitment to the fundamental institutions of civil society that cultivate individuals capable of self-governance; and dedication to the formation of informed and capable citizens.

Grantmaking Policies

The program interests and funding decisions of the Lynde and Harry Bradley Foundation are the responsibility of its Board of Directors.

The Foundation's grantmaking policies and priorities may be modified at the Board's discretion.

The Foundation -

- Can only support organizations that are exempt from Federal taxation under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and publicly supported under Section 509(a)(1), (2), or (3).
- Cannot provide grants to individuals.
- Will not fund unspecified overhead costs.
- Considers requests from religious organizations only when the impact of the project extends into the broader community, and
- Requires grantees to provide periodic progress reports.

Application Procedure

The Lynde and Harry Bradley Foundation has a two-step application process.

Step 1 - mail a brief letter of inquiry to “Grant Programs – Letters of Inquiry” about the organization and project to be supported. If the project falls within the Foundation’s current program interests, the organization may be invited to submit a proposal.

Step 2 – mail the proposal to “Grant Programs – Proposals”

It should include:

- A thorough description of the project, its objectives and significance, and the qualifications and roles of participants.
- An organizational budget, a project budget, a specific request, and other pertinent supporting documentation (see the checklist).
- A copy of the organization’s Internal Revenue Service tax determination letter. The Foundation can only support organizations that are tax-exempt under Sections 501(c)(3) and 509(a), respectively, of the Internal Revenue Code.

Mailing address – The Lynde and Harry Bradley Foundation, 1241 North Franklin Place, Milwaukee WI 53202.

Proposals are reviewed by the Foundation’s Program Staff, but all grantmaking authority rests with the Board of Directors.

The Board of Directors currently meets four times a year.

Proposal deadlines are February 1, May 1, August 1, and November 1. Every effort is made to review proposals for the next scheduled Board meeting. Occasionally, Board consideration is deferred to gather more information.

Many worthwhile projects do not fall within the Foundation’s program interests or the scope of its annual budget.

Numerous demands on the Foundation’s resources also limit grant size and its ability to make extended commitments.

Bradley Prizes

Bradley Prizes 2016

The Lynde and Harry Bradley Foundation awarded its 2016 Bradley Prizes to political scientist Charles Murray, historian and author Andrew Roberts, global religious leader and philosopher Rabbi Lord Jonathan Sacks, and actor and humanitarian Gary Sinise in an inspiring and entertaining ceremony at the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington, D.C., on June 15. A special Bradley Prize was also presented to the Bradley Foundation's President and CEO Michael Grebe on the occasion of his retirement. The $250,000 prizes recognize and celebrate the honorees' achievements in areas consistent with the Foundation's mission – fidelity to the Constitution; commitment to free markets; commitment to the fundamental institutions of civil society; and dedication to the formation of informed and capable citizens.

2016 Bradley Prizes award recipients

Charles Murray is the W. H. Brady Scholar in Culture and Freedom at the American Enterprise Institute. A social scientist, he is the author of Losing Ground: American Social Policy, 1950-1980; In Pursuit: Of Happiness and Good Government; The Bell Curve: Intelligence and Class Structure in American Life (with Richard J. Herrnstein); and Coming Apart: The State of White America, 1960-2010. His most recent book is By the People: Rebuilding Liberty Without Permission. Dr. Murray's work also includes articles in The Public Interest, Commentary, The New Republic, professional journals and leading national newspapers.

He has lectured and led seminars at universities and research institutions here and abroad, testified before congressional committees, and participated in numerous panels and conferences for government officials, elected officials, and visiting dignitaries. Dr. Murray began his career in 1965 as a Peace Corps Volunteer attached to the Thai Ministry of Health. He subsequently worked as a researcher for US-AID and later as a behavioral scientist at the American Institutes for Research. From 1982-1990, Dr. Murray was a fellow at the Manhattan Institute for Policy Research. In 2009, he received the Irving Kristol Award from the American Enterprise Institute. In 2015, he received the Edmund Burke Award from The New Criterion. Dr. Murray holds a Ph.D. in political science from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and a B.A. in history from Harvard University.

Andrew Roberts read modern history at Caius College, Cambridge, from where he is an honorary senior scholar and Ph.D. He has written twelve books, including Salisbury: Victorian Titan (which won the Wolfson Prize and the James Stern Silver Pen Award); Napoleon and Wellington; A History of the English-Speaking Peoples Since 1900 (which won the Intercollegiate Studies Institute Book Award); Masters and Commanders: How Roosevelt, Churchill, Marshall and Alanbrooke Won the War in the West 1941-45 (which won the Emery Reves Award); The Storm of War: A New History of the Second World War (which won the British Army Military Book Award); and Napoleon: A Life (which won The Los Angeles Times Biography Prize and the Grand Prix of the Fondation Napoléon). Professor Roberts is a Fellow of the Royal Society of Literature; a trustee of the Margaret Thatcher Archive Trust and the

George Will, Master of Ceremonies

National Portrait Gallery; chairman of the Guggenheim-Lehrman Military Book Prize; the Lehrman Institute Distinguished Fellow at the New York Historical Society; and a visiting professor at the War Studies Department of King's College, London. He has delivered the prestigious White House Lecture. Professor Roberts has lectured at Princeton, Yale and Stanford, and he was a visiting professor of history at Cornell. He serves on the academic boards of five conservative research institutes and organizations, and he is a founding member of the Friends of Israel Initiative.

An international religious leader, philosopher, and award-winning author, Rabbi Lord Jonathan Sacks was recently named the winner of the 2016 Templeton Prize in recognition of his “exceptional contributions to affirming life's spiritual dimension.” Described by H.R.H. The Prince of Wales as “a light unto this nation” and by former British Prime Minister Tony Blair as “an intellectual giant”, Rabbi Sacks is a frequent contributor to radio, television and the press both in Britain and around the world. Since stepping down as the Chief Rabbi of the United Hebrew Congregations of the Commonwealth – a position he held between 1991 and 2013 – Rabbi Sacks has held a number of professorships at several academic institutions including Yeshiva University and King's College London. He currently serves as the Ingeborg and Ira Rennert Global Distinguished Professor at New York University. Rabbi Sacks has been awarded 17 honorary doctorates including a Doctor of Divinity conferred on him in 2001 by then Archbishop of Canterbury Lord Carey. He is the author of over 25 books. His most recent work, Not in God's Name was awarded a 2015 National Jewish Book Award in America and was a top ten Sunday Times bestseller in the UK. Past works include The Great Partnership and The Dignity of Difference, winner of the 2004 Grawemeyer Prize for Religion for its success in defining a framework for interfaith dialogue between peoples of all faiths and of none. In recognition of his work, Rabbi Sacks also received the 1995 Jerusalem Prize for his contribution to diaspora Jewish life and the 2011 Ladislaus Laszt Ecumenical and Social Concern Award from Ben Gurion University. He was named the Becket Fund's 2014 Canterbury Medalist for his role in the defense of religious liberty in the public square. In 2005, Rabbi Sacks was knighted by Her Majesty The Queen, taking his seat in the House of Lords in October 2009.

Award-winning actor and philanthropist Gary Sinise has stood as an advocate for America's veterans and active service members for more than thirty years. His commitment began in the early 1980s with his support of Vietnam veterans groups and the creation of Vets Night, a program for veterans at the Steppenwolf Theatre in Chicago. In the 1990s, Mr. Sinise began his work on behalf of the Disabled American Veterans. Since the attacks of September 11, 2001, his dedication to our nation's active duty defenders, veterans and first responders has become a tireless crusade of support, service and gratitude to all those who protect our freedoms. Mr. Sinise's portrayal of Lt. Dan Taylor in the 1994 landmark film Forrest Gump created his enduring connection with servicemen and women throughout the military community. After several USO tours in 2003, Mr. Sinise formed the Lt. Dan Band and began entertaining troops at home and abroad, performing 30 shows a year for military bases, charities and fundraisers supporting wounded heroes, Gold Star families, veterans and troops around the world. He has earned many distinguished awards, including the Bob Hope Award for Excellence in Entertainment from the Medal of Honor Society; the Spirit of the USO Award; the Ellis Island Medal of Honor; the Doughboy Award; and the Dwight D. Eisenhower Award from the National Defense Industrial Association. In 2008, he received the Presidential Citizens Medal, the second-highest civilian honor awarded for exemplary deeds performed in service of the nation. In 2012, Mr. Sinise was presented with the Spirit of Hope Award by the Department of Defense and was named an honorary Chief Petty Officer by the United States Navy. In 2013, he was pinned as an honorary Marine by General James Amos, commandant of the United States Marine Corps. In 2015, Mr. Sinise received the prestigious Sylvanus Thayer Award from the West Point Association of Graduates, an honor bestowed upon a civilian whose character, service, and achievements reflect the ideals prized by the U.S Military Academy. In 2011, Mr. Sinise established the Gary Sinise Foundation to serve and honor our nation's defenders, veterans, first responders, and their families. The Foundation's mission is to ensure the sacrifices of America's defenders and their families are never forgotten.

2016 Bradley Symposium examines “The Future of Work in America”

In June, The Lynde and Harry Bradley Foundation, the Ethics and Public Policy Center (EPPC), and National Affairs convened a panel of distinguished scholars to discuss “The Future of Work in America” at the 12th annual Bradley Symposium.

Work is an essential pillar of a thriving life and a crucial ingredient in the American recipe for upward mobility. In this century, however -- as the workforce-participation rate has continued to decline and our economy has been buffeted by globalization, demographic change, immigration, and technological advance -- the prospects of many American workers have been imperiled.

The experts addressed several questions. Among them: What does the growing automation of some industries portend for workers? How does immigration shape the opportunities available to American workers? Does our welfare system help or hurt low-income Americans reconnect with the workforce? And how do the changing circumstances of American workers translate into political pressures in this populist moment? Meeting these challenges will require new thinking by employers, workers, academics, and policymakers.

The speakers were George Borjas of the John F. Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University, Andrew McAfee of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Henry Olsen of EPPC, and Scott Winship of the Manhattan Institute. 2013 Bradley Prize recipient Yuval Levin of EPPC served as moderator.
