Monk Office Streamlines Operations with Sage Business Cloud

Monk Office Streamlines Operations with Sage Business Cloud

RICHMOND, British Columbia, Sept. 12, 2018 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Sage, the market leader in cloud business management solutions, today shared how Sage Business Cloud is helping Monk Office to drive efficiency and productivity across their business.

As a growing family-owned business with its own distribution centre and 10 retail locations across Vancouver Island, Monk Office has decided to invest in the Sage Business Cloud platform, using Enterprise Management along with its fully integrated add-ons, including InfoPOS and Sage e-commerce, to streamline operations and strengthen growth profiles.

The switch will help Monk Office drive increased efficiency and productivity across its retail, e-commerce and distribution centres. Through implementing Enterprise Management, Monk Office will now be able to leverage real-time analytics and incorporate business processes, such as inventory, sales, customer services and financial management, into one unified platform.

Built based on customer needs and the latest market technology trends, Enterprise Management will deliver all the benefits of a robust ERP while remaining scalable and simple to use. The solution will increase the productivity of Monk Office's distribution centre operations, help provide a robust e-commerce platform, and deliver an omni-channel experience for their customers.

Highlighted comments from Caitlin McKenzie, President & CEO of Monk Office:

"In succeeding my father and grandfather as President & CEO of Monk Office, my top priority is the continuing growth of this company. The simple yet expansive platform provided by Sage Enterprise Management will allow us to streamline our sales process, provide better service for our customers and control every aspect of our day-to-day business to ensure success. Enterprise Management from Sage provides our teams with the real-time analytics they need to make the smartest decisions for our business."

Paul Struthers, EVP and Managing Director of Sage Canada commented: "We are absolutely thrilled that Monk Office has decided to put their faith in Sage, and our partners, The Answer Company, XM Developments and InfoPOS after conducting a thorough selection for their new ERP solution. This is a great testament to how strong partnerships can help augment a customer's business growth potential." Struthers continues: "We are committed to providing solutions that help businesses from start-up to enterprise manage operations and overcome challenges, so that we may empower organizations like Monk Office to reach their productivity targets and long-term visions."
