

PILOT SAMPLE LETTER

The following invitation email may be edited for use as an email to potential RSIGuard pilot participants.

Dear Employee,

Our organization is testing a software application called RSIGuard that we believe will help employees develop healthier work patterns at the computer. We hope RSIGuard will help you work more comfortably, reduce computer-related discomfort, and work more effectively.

We are looking for volunteers to help evaluate RSIGuard and then provide us feedback about your experience. Similar pilots of RSIGuard in other organizations show that most people have a positive experience, but we want to be sure that RSIGuard fits into our unique environment.

If you would be interested in participating and providing feedback, please contact me by _____.

If you wish to learn more about RSIGuard, please visit our introductory tutorial.

Sincerely,
