

RSIGuard Registration Assistance

This page provides assistance for getting RSIGuard onto your computer and registered. Please follow the instructions for your situation.

Situation 1: You are installing RSIGuard for the first time (i.e. you have not yet purchased RSIGuard)

- 1) Click here to sign up for a free download of RSIGuard, select your download version, and download the RSIGuard installation package to your computer.
- 2) Install RSIGuard onto your computer by opening the installation file.
- 3) After installing, RSIGuard will start automatically. Select the option to start the free 45-day trial. If you already know you want to purchase RSIGuard, you can click Purchase RSIGuard instead.
- 4) At any point during the trial, you can convert your trial copy into a fully registered copy by purchasing a registration code at our ecommerce website.
- 5) After your purchase is complete, you will receive a registration code via email. Registration codes start with the letter S, T, X or R (anything else is not a registration code). Click on the RSIGuard Setup menu, and select “Register RSIGuard”. Click on the “I have a registration code for this copy of RSIGuard” button, and enter your registration code. Click here if you have trouble with this step.

Situation 2: You have already purchased RSIGuard but need to install it on a new computer (or your hard drive was reimaged)

- 1) Click here to sign up for a free download of RSIGuard, select your download version, and download the RSIGuard installation package to your computer.
- 2) After you download the RSIGuard installer, open the file to install RSIGuard onto your computer.
- 3) After installing, RSIGuard will start automatically. Select the option to “Register RSIGuard”.
- 4) Every time you install RSIGuard you need a new registration code. (Exception: organizational registration codes that start with the letter x can be used multiple times).
- 5) Follow the steps on the webpage to get a new registration code. If you get your code right away, then you can return to the window in the previous step and choose the “I have a registration code for this copy of RSIGuard” option. Enter your new registration code and the trial will be converted to a fully registered copy. If you need time to find information requested by the website to get a new registration code, you can click “Start 45-day Evaluation”. When you get your code, follow the instructions in the registration section of the frequently asked questions to complete your RSIGuard registration.

If you have trouble with any of these steps, see our “Registration, Purchase & Installation FAQ” in our Resources section.
