ADM Vision

Airlines have to settle all disputes over ADMs (Agency Debit Memos) with travel agents within a time frame mandated by IATA. If they don't, the ADMs expire, and airlines lose revenues. To protect their revenues, airlines need quick and comprehensive information on ADMs, without investing in additional manpower.

Accelya's ADM Vision is a web-based application that provides airlines with consolidated and detailed status of all ADMs (issued, pending and disputed). With a single logon, airlines are able to view disputed and cancelled ADMs, and filter them by BSP or agent. The application provides information on the number and age of pending ADMs, and allows airlines to prioritize settlement of critical disputes

Manage your ADMs
more efficiently

Key Benefits

Protect revenues

ADM Vision provides information on the age of ADMs, and helps airlines prioritize settlement of disputes that are set to expire.

Access ADM information quickly

The information on ADM Vision is updated three times a day. On day one, it provides the status of all ADMs, and a 12-month history.

Focus on your core business

ADM Vision frees airline staff from the chore of tracking ADMs, and allows them to focus on their core duties.
