Net Remit 5

Trying to fill a plane to capacity? That's a challenge station managers face every single day. Often times, the two best options are slashing prices and offering incentives. The problem is these methods can only go so far. How can an airline offer a dynamic value proposition to travel agents without losing money?

A unique, IATA-approved solution to incentivize travel agents, Net Remit 5 is a leading web-based platform because it delivers on both accounts: it offers better margins and pays out instant incentives. The smart platform determines when an agent qualifies and station managers can pay out directly through the platform. It's just that easy.

Incentivize your agents instantly

Key Benefits

Instantly reward agents

Net Remit 5 integrates with BSP processing and adds extra commission that complies with set requirements, enabling airlines to instantly reward the agents.

Configure your deals your way

Net Remit 5 provides station managers the flexibility to configure complex deals to suit the local needs and achieve targets.

Calculate accurately and strengthen relationships

Net Remit 5 is completely automated, preventing calculation errors on extra commissions to agents. This helps strengthen the airline-agent relationship.

Key Benefits

Simplify work for agents

The agents do not have to enter any special codes while booking tickets. This reduces their efforts and eliminates manual errors.

Reduce operational costs

Net Remit 5's fully automated process cuts airline effort and cost to process supplementary commission on sales promotions and schemes.
