CONTENTS

- 2 NORTH Amsterdam's picturesque canals are perfect for leisurely bike rides; Big Ben looks small from atop the London Eye; friendly archery contests hit the target in Ireland's County Kilkenny; and a behind-the-scenes tour of St. Petersburg's Mariinsky Theatre has you dancing for joy.
- 12 SOUTH Dive into the dazzling Aegean waters off Mykonos, get squared away in Madrid's "Triangle of Art," taste fresh mozzarella at a farmhouse in Sorrento, and relax with a good tome in a private garden within the center of treasures-filled Florence.
- 42 WEST The scent of fresh gingerbread wafts through Christmas markets in Strasbourg and Vienna; Bordeaux toasts your arrival with its plentiful vineyards; the Brandenburg Gate stands as a triumph of reunification in Berlin; and Budapest's seven bridges welcome you to the "Pearl of the Danube."

Founded by Saint Kevin in the sixth century, Glendalough in County Wicklow is Ireland's most spectacular monastic ruin.

NORTHERN EUROPE

Hamlet's Castle, Handpainted Porcelain, and Highland Whisky Trails

REGIONAL HIGHLIGHTS

- Peterhof (Russia) — Dubbed the “town of palaces,” Peterhof is home to a series of palaces and gardens built by Peter the Great to rival Versailles. Most notable: The opulent Grand Palace and its Grand Cascade, a series of 64 fountains, 37 gilded statues, and three waterfalls.
- Gamla stan (Sweden) — Stockholm’s thirteenth-century Old Town stands as one of the best-preserved medieval city centers in all of Europe. Along its winding cobbled streets you’ll find the Royal Palace, one of the largest in the world.
- Kronborg Castle (Helsingør, Denmark) — The setting for Hamlet, this UNESCO-designated Renaissance stronghold — known as Elsinore Castle — includes an interactive exhibition and hosts the world’s oldest Shakespeare Festival.
- Glendurgan (Great Britain) — This lovely garden in Cornwall is most famous for its elaborate laurel maze; created in 1833, the maze’s weaving contours are worth the challenge — a thatched summerhouse stands in the middle.
- Porvoo (Finland) — Finland’s second-oldest town has provided inspiration for many artists with its quaint, red shore houses that line the river. As well as its unmatched charm factor, Porvoo is also known for its dining venues and interior design shops.
- Koninklijke Porceleynse Fles (Netherlands) — Founded in 1653, this pottery factory — also known as Royal Delft — is the last of 32 in Delft to produce the city’s namesake blue-and-white earthenware. Each piece is still painted by hand.
- Speyside (Scotland) — This region of the stunning Grampian Highlands is home to more than half of Scotland’s malt distilleries, which can be found along its Whiskey Trail. Among its eight working distilleries are world-famous labels Glenfiddich, Glenlivet, and Ardmore.

SOUTHERN EUROPE

Megalithic Temples, Tiled Dragons, and a Hilltop Town of Kings

REGIONAL HIGHLIGHTS

- Delphi (Greece) — The ancient Greeks deemed this town the center of the world, and the fourth-century Temple of Apollo once housed its legendary oracle. This impressive site also includes the Treasury, an amphitheatre, and an archaeological museum housing the spectacular bronze Charioteer.
- Hagar Qim (Malta) — This megalithic temple complex, built some 5,000 years ago, is one of the oldest known human sites in the world. There are numerous altars and shrines; the largest stone measures 22 feet long and weighs approximately 70 tons.
- Salona (Croatia) — Just northeast of Split lies the ancient center of Dalmatia and the largest complex of ancient monuments in Croatia. Explore its imposing walls, temples, amphitheater, and other monuments, the most important being the third-century Diocletian's Palace.
- Sicily (Italy) — The Mediterranean's largest island — which sits just off the tip of Italy's "boot" — boasts warm, golden beaches, wonderful cuisine, some of the world's most active volcanoes, one of Europe's oldest viticultural regions, and the superb Greek temples at Agrigento, Segesta, and Selinunte.
- Tivoli (Italy) — This ancient town outside of Rome boasts Hadrian's Villa, an exclusive retreat for Roman emperors, as well as Villa d'Este, known for its beautiful gardens with more than 100 fountains.
- Sintra (Portugal) — A must-do day trip from Lisbon, this scenic hilltop town was once the residence of Portugal's kings. The entire town has received UNESCO status for its many pastel manors and magnificent palaces, most important of which is the Disney-esque Palácio da Pena.

ADVISOR TIP

"A Greek isles cruise offers a wide range of diversions. For an active adventure, make an excursion to the Santorini caldera. You'll take a boat ride through a lagoon before hiking past rock formations and lava fragments to the top of the volcano. It's a must-do experience."

Madrid, a true masterpiece

There are many different ways to see Madrid. But if you want to see it through Velázquez's eyes, look up at the bright blue sky that this great painter captured so well and head straight to the Prado Museum. There, with Las Meninas in front of you, try to discover the secrets contained in this masterpiece.

This oil on canvas painted by Velázquez in 1656, a portrait of the family of Philip IV in which the painter himself also makes an appearance, is one of the most iconic symbols of Madrid and the invaluable cultural treasures found on the Paseo del Arte ("Art Walk"), home to the Prado, Thyssen-Bornemisza and Reina Sofía museums, among other art institutions.

Before leaving the Prado, let yourself be marveled by other masterpieces in the museum's collection such as The Garden of Earthly Delights by Hieronymus Bosch, or Goya's The Third of May, 1808.

Then cross the street to the Thyssen-Bornemisza, where you can appreciate over 1,000 artworks produced from the 13th to the late 20th century.

Highlights include Impressionist, Avant-Garde and Pop Art pieces from the 1960s.

Continue on to the Reina Sofía Museum, where more modern art awaits you, with a collection that spans the late 19th century to the present. There you can admire gems like Guernica, Picasso's most universal work.

After walking just a kilometer, along a boulevard shaded by trees, you'll have covered the entire history of world painting. And if you want an extra dose of culture, explore the Barrio de las Letras, right off the Paseo del Arte, and discover the legacy of Lope de Vega, Cervantes and other brilliant writers from the Siglo de Oro, the golden age of Spanish letters.

EXTRA TIP

The Paseo del Arte has added new spaces such as CentroCentro, a spectacular cultural centre in Cibeles Palace. From the rooftop of this building you can enjoy one of Madrid's finest views.

GOURMET Spain

Sophisticated palates sip and savor their way around Spain, a stunning, sun-blessed land where life revolves around food, wine, and a simple passion for living. Your Virtuoso travel advisor can create a customized gourmet tour for you; here is just a taste.

Basking in Basque Cuisine

Basque Country gourmands have long gathered at sociedades gastronómicas (“gastronomic societies”) to cook, eat, drink, and socialize. These clubs (once exclusively male) nurtured the region’s rich culinary tradition; indeed, the capital, San Sebastian, claims more Michelin stars than anyplace else in the world.

DO IT: Spend a memorable evening sharing pintxos (Basque-style tapas) in San Sebastian with local host Fanny Merino; Made for Spain makes all the arrangements.

Everything’s Rosé in La Rioja

For more than 1,000 years, pilgrims have passed through Spain’s La Rioja viticultural region on their way to Santiago de Compostela, the final resting place of Saint James. While the area’s monasteries once tended the fertile vineyards, today there are more than 300 registered bodegas or wineries, most of which still practice traditional methods such as aging wine in oak barrels.

DO IT: Stop at a bodega in Logroño, La Rioja’s capital city, while following the famous El Camino de Santiago route on a 10-day walking adventure with National Geographic Expeditions.

Valencians Value Their Paella

While you can find good paella across Spain, none compares to that served in its birthplace, the coastal city of Valencia. Locals use plenty of fresh seafood, such as mussels and shrimp, along with chicken and chorizo sausage, all steeped in saffron and slow cooked in a special flat-bottom pan.

DO IT: Great paella and plentiful orange groves are yours on EuropeToo’s four-day, totally customizable tour of Valencia with a private car and driver.

Tapas Are Tops in Barcelona

Tapas are more than just food in Spain; they’re a lifestyle. Barcelona epitomizes this culinary culture with tapas bars seemingly around every corner. Locals and visitors alike take joy in sharing these small, savory plates over fine wine and friendly conversation. Want the evening to keep going? Just order some more!

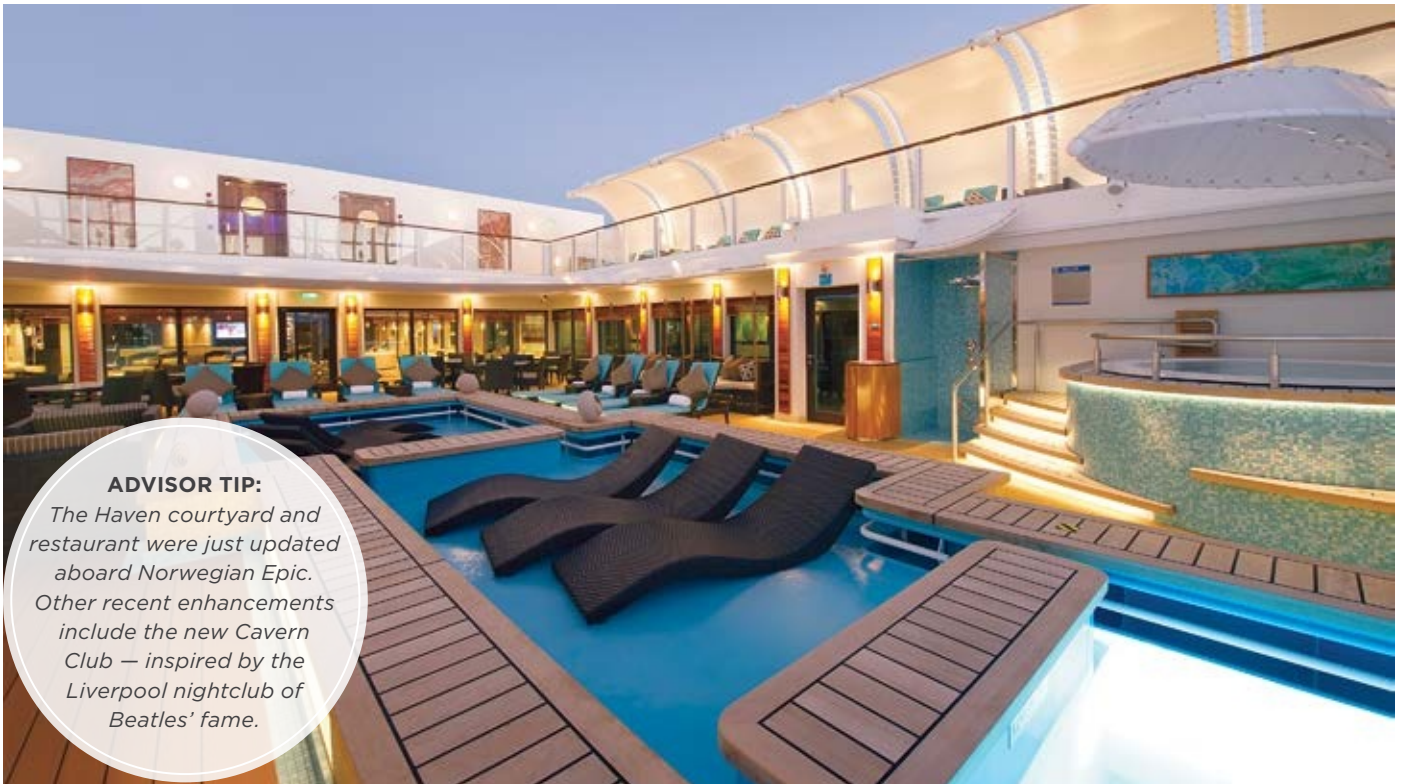

DO IT: Michelin-ranked chef Carlos Abellán takes a playful approach to tapas at BRAVO24 Restaurant, located in W Barcelona. Grab cocktails beforehand with your $100 credit at the W Lounge, or apply it toward spa services, during your stay.

NORWEGIAN CRUISE LINE

Spirits rise high in Provence.

On the beautiful Dalmatian Coast, bask in a cushioned daybed for two on your exclusive sundeck. Pinterest your day in Provence via the free Wi-Fi as your butler delivers a late-night dinner to your suite. And the lava rivers on Mount Vesuvius will inspire you to get a mud treatment at the Mandara Spa, followed by a soak in the hot tub of your nearby Spa Suite. A European vacation reaches whole new heights when you book a suite or villa in The Haven, Norwegian Cruise Line's exclusive, top-of-ship enclave featuring the most spacious accommodations, around-the-clock personal attention, and a host of added amenities, including an exclusive restaurant and free specialty dining.

ADVISOR TIP:

The Haven courtyard and restaurant were just updated aboard Norwegian Epic. Other recent enhancements include the new Cavern Club — inspired by the Liverpool nightclub of Beatles' fame.

Haven guests have a special key card for access to the exclusive lounge.

GRACE SANTORINI

Legend has it that the fabled city of Atlantis was lost to Santorini's volcanic eruption; the massive caldera (a crater, approximately 10 kilometers in diameter, now mostly submerged in the sea) certainly does have a mythical quality about it. So, too, does Grace Santorini, an eye-catching boutique hotel perched high above the caldera, known for pampering its guests. Its aura of tranquility and indulgence is even more enhanced after a just-completed refurbishment that includes a new Champagne lounge.

Greek Getaways

Shorter sailings for those short on time.

These itineraries are part of the newly rebranded Virtuoso Voyages program, which affords cruisers an onboard host, private cocktail receptions, and a choice of exclusive perks, ranging from VIP excursions to a private car and driver or credit to spend on board or toward an advisor-planned tour. Virtuoso agency owner Russell Glasheen, who hosted our sailing, says clients appreciate this benefit of booking a cruise with a Virtuoso advisor: “It’s an opportunity to meet other passengers with whom you probably have much in common.” If the shore excursion isn’t offered, she suggests using the shipboard credit toward a spa treatment or a bottle of wine.

With seven Greek port calls, Crystal Symphony’s eight-day round-trip sailing from Athens is one of the line’s only all-Greece itineraries. President and CEO Edie Rodriguez will be on board the 922-passenger ship, and Virtuoso Voyages perks include a $125 credit to spend on the ship or apply toward an advisor-planned tour.

An eight-day cruise from Athens to Venice on the 450-passenger Seabourn Odyssey includes four Greek ports, plus stops in Croatia. Virtuoso Voyages benefits include either an exclusive tour and lunch in Corfu, a $175 credit for a Virtuoso tour, a $150 shipboard credit, or a private car and driver.

Call on Italian and Greek ports on the 686-passenger Azamara Journey’s eight-day sailing from Rome to Athens.

Virtuoso guests choose an exclusive tour of Mount Etna and a winery visit in Sicily or a $175 shipboard credit, $150 toward an advisor-planned tour, or a private car and driver.

Travel to four countries — Greece, Italy, Montenegro, and Croatia — on Regent’s eight-day cruise from Athens to Venice on the 490-passenger Seven Seas Navigator. Virtuoso Voyages’ exclusive tour of Kotor and Budva includes lunch, or opt for a $175 credit toward a Virtuoso tour or a $150 shipboard credit.

A PUGLIA PLANNER

When to go, what to do, and where to stay.

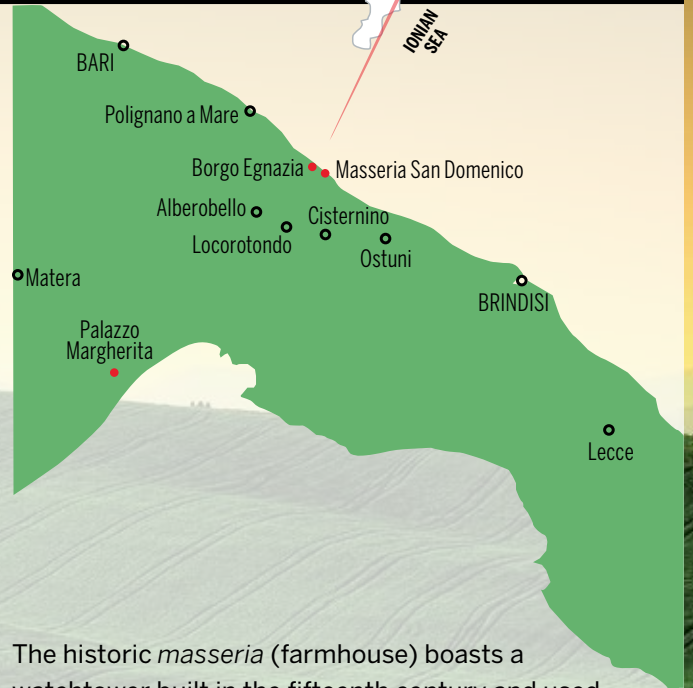

WHEN TO GO Puglia is a year-round destination, with hot summers, mild winters, and lots of sunny days. Says hotel owner Aldo Melpignano, "I personally love Puglia in the winter, when the weather is perfect for daytime outdoor activities and cozy evenings by the fireplace. In May the colors are beautiful. Summer is for hanging out at the beach, but it's more crowded. The fall is fun, when you can harvest grapes and olives."

GETTING THERE

- Fly into Bari or Brindisi from any major European capital, or take a train from Rome. Once you're there, advisors recommend renting a car: "Puglia offers so many day trips," notes agency executive Mike Kempinski.
- Consider Puglia for a pre- or post-cruise tour: Many Mediterranean itineraries call on Bari, and an extended stay allows you more time to explore.
- Puglia is perfect for a bike tour, which your advisor can arrange. "The roads are flat, and there are a lot of coastal routes," says travel agency CEO Paul Largay. "The area is respectful of and accustomed to cyclists, and the traffic is lighter than in most other Italian destinations. Hard-core riders can add in some challenging hills to the base rides," he adds.

STAY The Melpignano family welcomes visitors over the age of 12 to their elegant residence-turned-hotel, Masseria San Domenico, a gem with a spa, a huge pool, an outstanding restaurant, and 40 traditionally decorated guest rooms.

The historic masseria (farmhouse) boasts a watchtower built in the fifteenth century and used by the Knights of Malta.

Masseria San Domenico's more modern sister, Borgo Egnazia, was meticulously designed and decorated to highlight local materials and, more important, the local way of life. The 183 accommodations range from guest rooms to townhouses and spacious villas. Owner Francis Ford Coppola curates every detail at the nine-room Palazzo Margherita. The living area doubles as a screening room, where you can eat pizza and drink wine while watching one of his favorite Italian films. The bar is for hotel guests only, but the restaurant is a local favorite. Opt to eat in the kitchen, and take a complimentary pasta-making class.

There, a family-run tavern serves as the pleasant setting for a lunch of Dalmatian cuisine prepared from recipes passed down through the generations.

EXPERIENCE IT: Heed the call in Hvar when Windstar Cruises sends Star Pride on a nine-night voyage between Venice and Athens on August 26, 2016.

Bolgheri Castle, Tuscany, Italy

Convent of Vlachernas, Corfu

Corfu Curiosities

Old Corfu Town is a delightful blend of cafés and shops tucked into cobblestone alleys and arcades. A walking tour reveals the splendid residence of the High Commissioner; the seventeenth-century Town Hall, once a Venetian theater; and the Church of St. Spyridon, which contains rare icons and the holy crypt of Corfu's patron saint. Stop in Paleokastritsa for its thirteenth-century Monastery of the Virgin Mary before arriving in the picturesque village of Aghios Giannis, for a feast of barbecued Greek specialties with wine at Spyros & Vasilis, a popular restaurant noted for its authentic setting amidst majestic old oaks.

EXPERIENCE IT: Make your own legends with Seabourn during a seven-night cruise between Athens and Venice aboard Seabourn Odyssey. Departs September 3, 2016.

Enchantments Along the Etruscan Coast

The port of Livorno serves as gateway to Tuscany and some of the most splendid vistas in Italy. A drive along the scenic Etruscan Coast leads to the medieval hamlet of Bolgheri, celebrated by Italian poet Giosuè Carducci. Stroll the olive groves and vineyards of Di Vaira Winery, taste its famous red wines and olive oil with local cheeses and salami, and sit down to a wonderful lunch of homemade local specialties with, of course, more wine.

EXPERIENCE IT: Find enchantment when Regent Seven Seas Cruises sends its new Regent Explorer on an eight-night sailing from Monte Carlo for Athens, departing October 4, 2016.

Keen on Kotor

A private walking tour of Kotor reveals why its well-preserved Old City has been designated a UNESCO Heritage site. Farther along the coast lies Budva, one of the oldest settlements in the Balkans; take a guided walk around the ancient ramparts and fortifications. Then it's on to Sveti Stefan, Montenegro's most iconic images are of this tiny islet. Attached to the coast by a narrow isthmus, Sveti Stefan was once a fortified fifteenth century village; today it is the setting for your delicious lunch with even more delectable views over the Adriatic.

EXPERIENCE IT: Get keen on Azamara Club Cruises aboard Azamara Journey, which sets sail for seven nights from Venice to Civitavecchia on September 16, 2016.

The fortress wall with the upper point of the Obidos, Portugal

View of a small town by the sea, Montenegro

Orating About Óbidos

Visitors continually extol the many virtues of Óbidos, one of the best-preserved medieval towns in Portugal. Stop to sample the traditional local drink, Ginjinha, a cherry liqueur served in a small cup of chocolate. Another treat: An exclusive wine tasting followed by a delicious lunch at the seventeenth-century Quinta de Santana estate in the village of Gradil. Then it's back to Lisbon and the neighborhood of Belém, linked to Portugal's glory days of maritime discoveries; the area's Jerónimos Monastery and Tower of Belém are both UNESCO World Heritage sites.

EXPERIENCE IT: Pontificate on Portugal's timeless appeal when Crystal Cruises' Crystal Symphony overnights in Lisbon on a 12-night voyage from Tilbury. Departs August 6, 2016.

JUMEIRAH PORT SOLLER HOTEL & SPA

There is a surreal quality about Jumeirah Port Soller, perched at cliff's edge and seemingly floating above the Mediterranean Sea. Private balconies and terraces take full advantage of the picturesque views over the Tramuntana mountains and the fishing village of Soller below. The hotel's spa uses locally sourced citrus and olive oil in its healing treatments, and likewise, only the freshest of ingredients go into the authentic Balearic cuisine. The kids' club keeps little ones busy; its services are complimentary for two hours daily.

GREEK ISLAND HOPPING

Whitewashed villages clinging to cliffs, long stretches of golden sand, hidden harbors and sapphire-blue seas — the Greek Isles consistently rank among Virtuoso readers' top travel dreams. Here are three to see.

RHODES Its namesake Old Town — Europe's oldest inhabited medieval town — claims the Temple of Venus and 200 nameless cobblestone streets to wander, while the ancient village of Lindos lures with its imposing Acropolis. Windstar Cruises treats guests to a private dinner with musicians and dancers when it stops at the island on a six-night odyssey between Athens and Istanbul.

PÁTAMOS St. John had his famous Revelation on this gorgeous island, and you can visit his Cave of the Apocalypse when Azamara Club Cruises spends seven nights hopping around the Dodecanese chain from Athens. Virtuoso Voyages adds a private shore event in Kusadasi.

SANTORINI Perhaps nothing epitomizes the Greek Isles experience more than the clifftop village of Oia and its iconic blue-domed churches. Pay a visit when Norwegian Cruise Lines calls on Santorini during a seven-night, round-trip Venice voyage.

CLASSIC VACATIONS

Make yourself at home.

Tucked within a secluded bay in southern Tuscany along the yet-undiscovered Argentario coast, Hotel Il Pellicano exudes the essence of la dolce vita. While off the beaten tourist track, the journey here is well worth it. The hotel's central villa and six cottages are surrounded by terraced Italian gardens, with a private beach and a heated seawater pool offering jaw-dropping cliff views. Play tennis, go windsurfing and diving, or charter a boat and set off with a picnic lunch for a nearby island; 18-hole golf and horseback riding are just minutes away. Later, return for a relaxing spa treatment at the Pelliclub and for Michelin-starred cuisine at Il Pellicano restaurant, where you can dine on the terrace overlooking the Tyrrhenian Sea.

ADVISOR TIP:

Chef Sebastiano Lombardi shares Michelin-starred recipes and kitchen secrets in hands-on cooking classes; or join the hotel's sommelier for a guided tasting of Italy's best wine labels.

SPOTLIGHT ON:

FAVORITE SHOPS

Virtuoso travel advisors spend a lot of time traveling, and along the way they discover some of the world's most fabulous shops. Here they share a few of their favorite finds around Southern Europe.

FLORENCE: Stefano Bemer Bespoke Footwear

Incredible master cobblers whose shoes are entirely handmade. Note: The process involves casting the customer's feet, hand-stitching the raw material, and creating soles and linings, but the wait is worthwhile! (2 Via San Niccolò) Get sized up while staying at Hotel Lungarno, a stone's throw from Ponte Vecchio. Enjoy a complimentary private transfer to the airport or rail station.

LISBON: Lavandaria Luxe Linens

Set in the city's old Alfama district, this shop produces all types of finely detailed, handmade linens, including replicas of eighteenth-century patterns. (11-13 Rua Augusto Rosa) Pick up a delicately embroidered piece when Regent Seven Seas Cruises' new Seven Seas Explorer sails 10 nights from Rome; Virtuoso Voyages adds a private shore event in Barcelona.

TURIN: Gran Balôn Market Curios

Hundreds of vendors travel from as far away as France to peddle their antiques and trinkets at one of Italy's best street markets, which takes place the second Sunday of every month. (around via Borgo Dora). Time your private, four-day Piedmont tour with Avanti Destinations so you can browse the tables before tasting the region's famous chocolates.

MILAN: Il Salvagente Discount Designer Fashions

No, seriously — this fashion outlet just outside the city carries Milan's top international labels as well as pieces by new young designers. The discount prices draw lots of locals. (16 Via Fratelli Bronzette) You can join them in the treasure hunt on a private half-day, personal shopping tour with Abercrombie & Kent.

BARCELONA: Beriestain Almost Everything

At this lifestyle concept store from interior designer guru Jaime Beriestain, you can shop for everything from vintage furniture and artworks to books and fresh flowers, then enjoy a fine Chilean meal at the homey café. (167 Carrer de Pau Claris) Spend time browsing before boarding Seabourn Sojourn for Seabourn's 10-night voyage to Monte Carlo; Virtuoso Voyages joins you in Ciudadela for a highlights tour and lunch.

WORLDWIDE TRAVELER

Edinburgh Castle dominates the city.

Say “buongiorno!” to two of the world’s greatest cities, beginning with three nights in Florence, staying in a former sixteenth-century convent with its own 11-acre private park, just minutes from must-see spots. Another three nights in Venice have you equally secluded on a peaceful island just a short motor-launch ride away from St. Mark’s Square. Then again, you may want to practice the expression “Bob’s your uncle!” and buy a kilt for a six-night turn around the United Kingdom. London lies at your feet — quite literally — while you’re staying midway atop the city’s famous Shard of Glass skyscraper. Time stands still in Edinburgh, where a former train station and its famous clock serve as base for your tours to Scotland’s enduring highlands and glens.

The Duke of Wellington and doormen in kilts welcome you to The Balmoral.

ADVISOR TIP:

Talk to your Virtuoso travel advisor about adding other tours to your trip, such as a gondola ride in Venice or a visit to the Houses of Parliament in London.

STRETCH YOUR LEGS ON SOME OF THE MOST BEAUTIFUL STRETCHES OF SAND AROUND SOUTHERN EUROPE. YOUR VIRTUOSO TRAVEL ADVISOR KNOWS ALL THE HOTTEST SPOTS. HERE ARE A FEW FAVORITES:

Playa Real de Zaragoza, Marbella, Spain

Lapad Beaches, Dubrovnik, Croatia

While most holidayers head to Copacabana Beach, locals prefer this series of beaches connected by a pleasant promenade. Stroll them when Celebrity Cruises overnights in red-roofed Dubrovnik during an 11-night voyage between Venice and Istanbul.

Psarou Beach, Mykonos, Greece

PRINCESS CRUISES

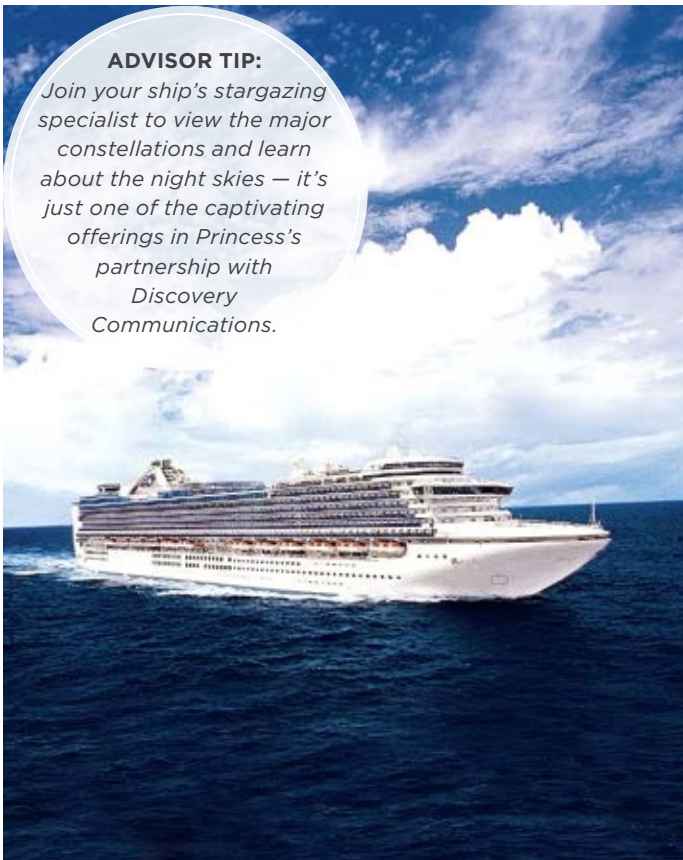

Lose yourself at the Lotus Spa.

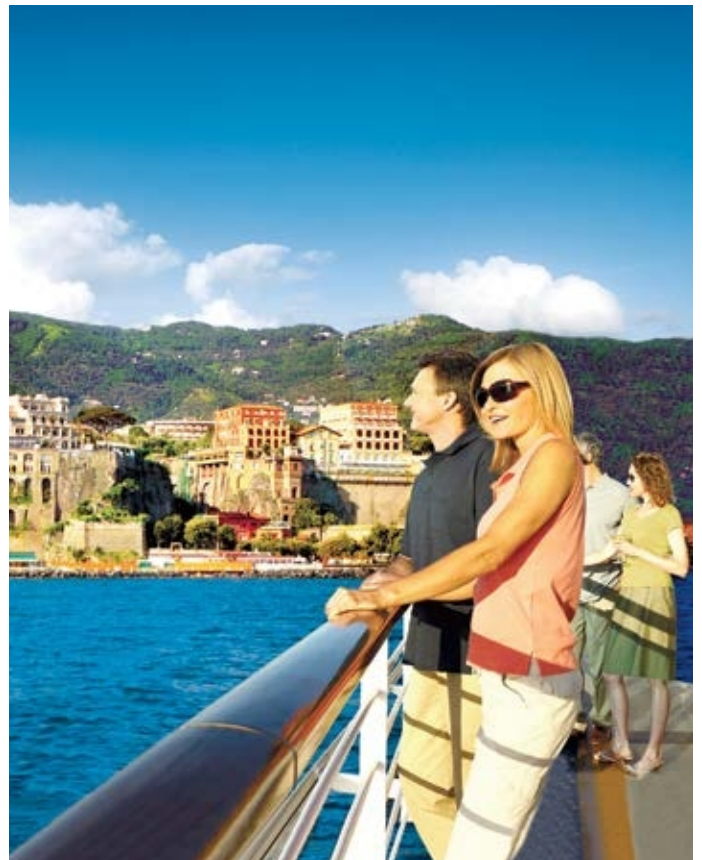

In Lanzarote, head off-road in a four-by-four Jeep, exploring lava fields and dramatic rock formations; return to your ship for a hot-stone massage at Lotus Spa. Visit a farmhouse in Sorrento to taste fresh mozzarella, and tour a pasta factory in nearby Gragnano; and then, back aboard ship, indulge in decadent, handcrafted chocolate treats created by famous chocolatier Norman Love. Just outside Ljubljana, travel deep within Postojna Cave to witness its multicolored stalactites and stalagmites; “back home” again, watch the spectacular musical revue, Magic to Do, from Oscar-winning composer Stephen Schwartz. Traveling in Europe with Princess is more than a cruise vacation — it is a life-changing adventure.

In the heart of Milan, a fifteenth-century convent has been converted to one of the fashion mecca's most stylish hotels. WESTERN EUROPE

Colossal Palaces, Defensive Casemates, and Carpets of Flowers

REGIONAL HIGHLIGHTS

- Hellbrunn Palace (Austria) — With its extensive grounds, trick fountains, and domestic- and exotic-animals zoo, this colossal Baroque palace in Salzburg is also home to the famous gazebo featured in “The Sound of Music.”
- Monaco Oceanographic Museum (Monaco) — An architectural masterpiece that dramatically rises 280 feet above the sea, this impressive museum and aquarium includes thousands of specimens gathered by Prince Albert I, as well as models of his laboratory ships and oceanographic works.
- Prague (Czech Republic) — One of the few major cities spared during World War II, Prague’s entire city center — comprised of Old Town, Lesser Town, and New Town, built between the eleventh and eighteenth centuries — has been named a UNESCO World Heritage site.
- Chillon Castle (Switzerland) — Lord Byron immortalized this idyllic island castle, which reigns over an island on Lake Geneva. The castle is made up of more than 100 separate buildings that were later joined together, including subterranean Gothic cathedrals, great halls, and a weapons room.
- Grand-Place (Belgium) — Brussels central square, surrounded by some 40 buildings from the fourteenth through seventeenth centuries, is an icon of Belgium’s sophisticated capital. Every two years, it is covered with a flower carpet of nearly 1 million begonias; in August 2016, the carpet is an homage to Japan.
- Musée d’Orsay (Paris) — Works by Degas, Rodin, Monet, and other nineteenth-century masters line the walls of this exquisite museum, housed in a former Beaux-Arts train station along the banks of the Seine.

ADVISOR TIP

“Take one of the many riverboat cruises on the Spree River through Berlin. A boat picks guests up near the zoo, and tours range from simple sightseeing to comedy shows and architectural highlights.”

How to Plan Your Own Family Reunion

- Determine the type of gathering you want: For example, large versus intimate, active versus relaxed, all-reunion-related versus private time built in.
- Work with a travel advisor, who can guide you through the myriad details regarding budget, locale, events, etcetera.
- Elect a single decision maker for the family: Someone who's in tune with everyone's desires and needs. The travel advisor then takes the decision maker's guidance and turns it into a dream family reunion.
- Maintain communication between the family contact and the travel advisor to ensure you're on the same page at all times.
- Hire a local professional photographer for a day or two, to take the requisite group photo and capture family members in candid shots. These will be your favorite pics.

Where to Stay

These family-friendly hotels are some of our favorites for multi-gen getaways when traveling in Western Europe:

Germany — Set in the famous spa resort of Baden-Baden, with an entire villa devoted to spa therapies, BRENNERS PARK-HOTEL & SPA offers mountain biking in the Black Forest, cross-country skiing, haute culture, and a great kids' club that includes playtime in the resort's private park.

France — The Chateau de Versailles lies just beyond the wooded parkland surrounding the incomparable TRIANON PALACE VERSAILLES, where families are treated like royalty. Play golf, take a Segway tour, meet the animals at nearby Gally Farm, or spend the day in Paris, just 20 minutes away.

Switzerland — Water sports on Lake Lausanne, the world-class Cinq Mondes Spa, an array of suite accommodations, and the fun-filled Children's Corner make BEAU-RIVAGE PALACE our top pick for a Swiss reunion.
