

Clients using Synergy as a central resource for Project Data and Documents are now able to fully incorporate emails in to this. For years, staff have left commercially sensitive information typically in individual inboxes, creating challenges to the sharing & retrieval of information, which can become critical for a number of reasons.

How does Mail Manager work with Synergy?

- Rather than relying on staff to manually file information in to Synergy, Mail Manager will prompt & predict staff to file their emails to the relevant projects in Synergy.
- Mail Manager will discover projects from Synergy, which will then be presented to users to file to, based on where they typically file their emails.
- Rather than search hundreds of thousands of emails in Synergy, you're able to search them in Mail Manager meaning staff can find any email on any project.
- Permissions to Mail Manager are managed centrally from Synergy, meaning you only create a project and manage permission in 1 system.

Summary

Filing and search emails through Mail Manager into Synergy means there is one place for everything and staff consistently file their emails. The results mean your inbox isn't a continuous struggle.
