Create a Financial Benchmark for Your Practice with Data from Hundreds of Pediatric Practices

Pediatric practices tend to operate in silos of information, often blind to the performance of similar practices and no way to effectively make a comparison.

In this session, expert speaker Chip Hart will be sharing with you the vital financial benchmark data from hundreds of independent pediatricians around the country and show you how to measure your own performance. Chip will also provide you with instruction on how to perform each measure independently and how you can take actions based on certain results. Read more

Session Highlights:

- Specific benchmark data and charts, showing both specific and stratified performance
- Instructions on how to perform each measure independently
- Guidance about what to do with certain results
- Why benchmarks are important and who do you measure against?
- What does a Revenue-per-Visit measure tell you?
- Why is your A/R Days measure misleading and what should you use instead?
- What relationship do the financial measures have on clinical measures and vice versa?
- Are your coding skills up to snuff?
- How do these benchmarks affect your bottom line?
