ZeeVee Adds Three International Distributors on Three Continents

*Gigantika in Indonesia, PRO AV Africa in East Africa and Electro Waves in Finland
Join Expanding ZeeVee Team*

LITTLETON, Mass., October 29, 2018 – Three well-known and respected AV distributors – Gigantika Pratama Prima, PRO AV Africa and Electro Waves – have joined ZeeVee’s expanding network of premier international distributors.

Gigantika Pratama Prima (GPP), with headquarters in Jakarta, Indonesia, has served Indonesia’s IT industry as a systems integration and network services company for more than 20 years. Today, Gigantika has transformed into a full-service IT products distribution company with a sterling reputation for delivering a broad range of hardware products and software solutions including industrial networking, video extension and digital signage.

Technet E.A. Solutions, better known as PRO AV Africa, based in Kampala Uganda and serving dealers in East Africa, is a regional authorized distributor of professional audio-visual equipment and customizable solutions supplied by renown international manufacturers. Its product lines include audio, video, cables and connectors, control and automation and lighting.

Electro Waves, located in Espoo, Finland, is a family-owned business that represents the newest technology and has the experience and vision to carry out solutions that can be seen, heard and felt. The company provides service from design to implementation and maintenance – always with the best products in market and great expertise. Its experienced, innovative designers and mechanics are ready to challenge both themselves and the space to exceed customer expectations and create solutions that last over years to come.

“ZeeVee is constantly looking to add quality pro AV and IT integrators to our rapidly growing international network,” said Bob Michaels, president and CEO, ZeeVee, Inc. “These three new international distributors, each providing top tier sales and technical support in markets where there is a growing movement towards IP-based video distribution, are examples of the high-quality, skilled and reputed partners we are seeking.”

ZeeVee’s recently introduced SIGNAL global channel partner program, provides international distributors and the entire AV integration, installer and consultant community, with a comprehensive platform of technical support, business development and financial resources for succeeding in local markets.

“The SIGNAL program launch has generated tremendous marketplace interest in joining the ZeeVee team,” said Michaels. “We welcome additional inquiries from smart, skilled and entrepreneurial organizations seeking to affiliate with our best-of-breed and proven marketplace solutions.”
