Brock Hicks has joined geoAMPS as Product Support Analyst. As a member of the Product Support team, Brock provides ongoing support for clients and users of geoAMPS software, answering their questions and assisting with training.

"Brock is a great addition to our already outstanding Product Support team," Yogesh Khandelwal, President and Chief Executive Officer of geoAMPS, said. "He will work closely with our clients to help them utilize, to the full extent, geoAMPS' product capabilities."

Brock is a graduate of Wittenberg University in Springfield, OH, completing a double major in Business and Geography (Environmental).

In the process of fulfilling requirements for a bachelor's degree, Brock gained valuable customer service and marketing experience. He was Marketing Intern at a pharmacy, implementing a marketing campaign which including developing the pharmacy social media channels. He also was Customer Service Representative for Wittenberg University and assisted the men's varsity soccer coaching staff.

Brock was captain of the university's varsity men's soccer team and earned NCAA NCAC All-Conference Honorable Mention in soccer in 2011.

As a community service, Brock assisted The Ark: A Ministry of Children's Rescue Center, a program of the City of Springfield. He chaperoned children in an after-school program.

"I am excited to join geoAMPS, a growing company that is advancing industries through technological innovation," Brock said. "I look forward to working with our many clients and users to help them benefit from geoAMPS products and services."

geoAMPS is a technology company in the Columbus, OH, area that specializes in software solutions to manage land rights and infrastructure assets.
