

Our Values

Our SPIRIT core values and beliefs underpin all of the work we do and describe a common set of expectations for all colleagues, regardless of their role.

We place a lot of value in teamwork and this is reflected in the way we support our clients and each other.

“Our SPIRIT core values and beliefs are integral to the way we work and are there to help us to achieve our purpose and goals.”

Meet one of our Trainee Solicitors, Daniel Robinson

Daniel joined CFG Law in 2016 as a Paralegal and became a Trainee Solicitor in 2017.

What does a typical day for you look like?

I couldn't describe a day as being 'typical' because it varies so much! However, some of my daily tasks can involve drafting court documents, taking witness statements and corresponding with medical experts or treatment providers. There are so many tasks that can arise on a wide array of cases and this makes every day different - which makes it more interesting!

How would you describe your working relationship with your immediate team and supervisor?

I have a great relationship with both my team and supervisor. Our team all work close together and everyone is happy to help on each other's cases. Everyone is incredibly approachable and patient; I value the one to one time I get with each fee earner because you learn so much from each of them. They have all helped me to develop my career in so many ways.
