"An inspiring and energetic presentation about management and playing to your strengths. Not all managers fall into the same cookie cutter mold—Dan honors that and encourages you to use the style that comes naturally to you in the most effective way possible. Excellent presentation! I subscribed to his podcast and bought his book. I want to keep his encouragement fresh in my mind!"

– Sarah Burnham, CEO, Redwood Building Maintenance Co., Inc.

"I was captivated the entire time! After hearing Dan speak, I was left in awe thinking about his past experience, the knowledge he's picked up along the way, and his exceptional ability to cultivate and grow better leaders in such a short period of time. I love the fact that he not only covered the progression of great leadership at work, but also rooted it in life outside of work, especially the importance of time spent with family. I am lucky to have met such a man and to learn from his truly inspirational teachings."

– Eric Untalan, Marketing Manager, Kauai Backcountry Adventures

"Dan's insights and wisdom connect with both your head and your heart. He inspired me to become a better leader by teaching me to empower others to be great on their own. This isn't just about exceeding growth metrics, it's about being great humans for ourselves, families, employees, and communities."

– Dan Bowling, COO, Toy'n Around

"Dan was the perfect speaker for our retreat! His speech was excellent and equally applicable for all. Dan gave a fantastic talk on legacy leadership which is important for all leaders to think about. He is clear and articulate in his delivery and his content is thought provoking. Many members commented that this was the best retreat we have had. An outstanding leadership message from one of the best."

– Andrés Arteaga, Executive Director at Grupo LAAR
