PROGRAM OVERVIEW

LEARN MORE

The GP Update is a one-day program run by GPs for GPs, focusing on critical clinical areas and the latest guidelines for diagnosis and treatment of common conditions and disease states presented in general practice.

The program collates the latest issues, literature, research and guidelines, interprets these for real life general practice, and helps you keep up to date with all current topics pertinent to primary care.

The GP Update is the only program of its type to be completely free from pharmaceutical company sponsorship. Delegates are assured there will be no biasing of the information presented and no pharmaceutical representatives will be present on the day.

PROGRAM CONTENTS

Delegates will be presented with the most recent information on the diagnosis and treatment of common conditions in general practice, and will receive access to the most contemporary, evidence-based literature and research.

"Well presented, engaging content. Excellent choice of topics. Brilliant to have studies from last month!"

– Dr D. Grant

"Excellent learning resources, updated information, and interactive sessions. Educators kept us busy with lots of fun!"

– Dr R. Sohi

"All topics covered are very relevant to daily practice. Great summary of current evidence and guidelines for management, with the Handbook being an excellent take-home resource."

– Dr P. Harris

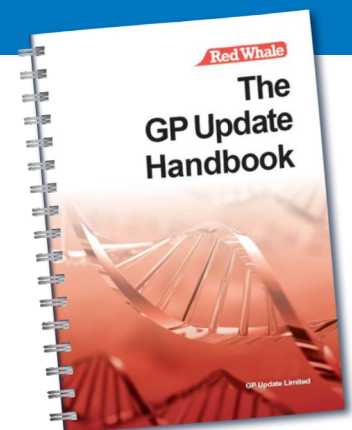

VALUABLE REFERENCE HANDBOOK INCLUDED

Delegates will receive a 250 page GP Update Handbook covering the results of the most important research over the last five years – an extremely useful reference which deals with more subjects more extensively than is possible in the one-day program.

The Handbook represents a valuable resource document for current needs, self-study and future reference.

Being mindful of time-poor GPs, the book is structured in such a way that you can easily see the important points without having to read the whole text.

"A real 'bible'. A great resource to keep on desk to review."

YOUR INSTRUCTORS

The GP Update program features no theorists, no gurus and no sponsors – just real life GPs who will be back seeing patients as soon as the one-day program has finished. These GPs trawl through all the journals and do all the legwork to bring you up to speed on the latest issues, literature, research and guidelines in general practice.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

The program is targeted to medical professionals working in general practice who do not have time to read all medical journals and attend various general practice education events, but who would like to keep up with current issues and implement new ideas into their practice, and continue to provide safe and effective patient care through training. Participants include general practitioners, general practice supervisors, general practice medical educators, overseas trained doctors, general practice registrars, medical students on placement in general practice, and general practice nurses and nurse practitioners.

PROGRAM DELIVERY

The program is delivered in a lecture-style approach with plenty of interaction from the audience, humour and visual cues to help get the messages across and keep you listening (and learning!) throughout the day. Delegates can expect engaging video presentations, relevant case studies, treatment and diagnosis options, and a moderated Q&A session.

CERTIFICATION AND ACCREDITATION

Upon successful completion of the program, program participants will receive a certificate of attendance and 12 RACGP Category 2 CPD points. Participants also have the option to receive 40 RACGP Category 1 points by completing a clinical audit in Atrial Fibrillation. A clinical audit is a planned medical education activity designed to help GPs systematically review aspects of their own clinical performance against defined best practice guidelines.
