ABOUT TEACHSTONE

Teachstone's services are tailored towards improving the interaction between teachers and students, specifically in Infant-Pre-K levels of learning. Teachstone is in the business of improving the ways teachers interact with their students. They offer trainings for coaches and observers, deliver online programs, and design professional development, all grounded on the idea that classroom interactions have a lasting impact on children's academic and developmental success.

THE CHALLENGE

Before opting for Lambda Learning Solutions, Teachstone was hosting their Moodle in-house. The work eventually became too much - The amount of time allocated to hosting was cutting into time that would be better spent on their business, and their clients. They knew they needed to move to a LMS provider who could free up their time by hosting their servers, and providing expert support.

Teachstone also faced some reporting pains with their existing LMS reports. The Configurable Reports in Moodle were not robust enough to extract the data or build the reports that Teachstone needed. Time tracking, in particular, was a big requirement for them, and Moodle's Configurable Reports did not do these very well.

THE SOLUTION

"We chose Lambda because you guys are team-oriented. Your model is working with the client to find the right solution." Through consultations and ongoing support, this is exactly what Lambda Solutions provided. Teachstone ended up with a solution tailored to fit their specific needs - with LMS hosting, support, data, and reporting.

"The reporting experience for our customer has improved times two - they were very happy with the enhancements that Zoola provided over the Configurable reports plugin that we were using in Moodle." Teachstone received great benefits from the ability to extract and sort data in a variety of ways, as well as to add additional information into reports - specifically, time users spend in courses.

“ With Moodle's Configurable Reports it could take up to 10 minutes to generate a report. With Zoola, it takes about 30 seconds. ”

THE OUTCOMES

- The most significant outcome from Zoola, was the reduction in time spent generating reports. "With Moodle's Configurable Reports it could take up to 10 minutes to generate a report. With Zoola, it takes about 30 seconds."

- The ability to manipulate data within reports. Teachstone benefited from the ability to create their own report types - in particular, the time users spend in courses. "There are a lot of possibilities on how to handle the data, and how to present the data to our customers."
